Front Page  Geoffrey O'Hara Will Entertain At Boar's Head
American Humorist
Author of 'K-K-K-Katy' and Many Popular Songs; Writes Operettas
Horrors Of War Behind Trenches Shown In Play
Bach Oratorio To Be Presented
Choral and Orchestra Work Scheduled For Dec. 13; Handel on Program
Outing Club Trip To Bennington
Bishop Gardner To Preach Here
St. Stephen's Graduate To Give Baccalaureate Sermon This Spring
New Department For Next Issue Of 'Sketch Book'
Henry Billings' Show At Whitney
Collections To Relieve Poor Begun Here
Annual Drive For Clothing And Money Under Way; Many Children Aided
Art Exhibit At Orient Gallery
Senior Projects Are Considered For Class Of '38
Interdepartmental Studies Under Discussion By Faculty Committee
To Replace Exams
Investigation Equivalent To Full-Year Course; Required For Degree
Song Recital By Jenny Lee At Bard Hall
Columbia Debate
Help The Red Hook Poor . . .
The Convenience Of Absent-Mindedness . . .
Council On Student Funds . . .
Looking Around
Dick Revere
Binkley-Frost Nuptials
Drew Downs Bard In Season Opener
Home Five Leads in 2nd Period; Loses by 35-17
Seniors, Sophs Win On Court
With the Squad
Jim Magee
Alumni Notes
Help The Red Hook Poor

AN EDITORIAL

Red Hook has many poor families. In the past the apple orchards, the chocolate factory, the vac- cino factory gave these people work. Now, all that remains in Red Hook is the apple industry and that has been somewhat curtailed during the last few years. The federal relief has been caring for the majority of these poor people. It has been supporting families which have no incomes whatsoever. These people are not in need of our help.

There are, however, the border-line cases, families whose annual incomes make them ineligible for government relief. These families are normal, healthy, capable of finding the combination of adverse social forces too much for their means of adjustment. They don’t give up but work at any odd job they can get. When employment comes to Red Hook, these families will come back on their feet.

BISHOP GARDNER TO BE PRESENTED AT

St. Stephen’s Graduate To Give Baccalaureate Ser- mon This Spring

The Baccalaureate commencements in the former churches of St. Stephen’s, College of the City of New York, were held May 9, with the Rt. Rev. Wallace John Gardner, Bishop of Brooklyn, presiding. The services were held at the Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine, and the evening service was held in the gymnasium of the college.

New Department for Next Issue of “Sketchbook”

The December issue of the Sketchbook will be ready for distribution on or about December fifteenth if it is announced this week. The issue will contain a new section of reviews and criticism to be called Cool School. Included will be reviews on the Broadway productions of father starting John Gielgud, the Group Theatre’s new play, “The War at Home” by John Logan, and William Faulkner’s “As I Lay Lying,” and others.

OUTING CLUB TRIP TO BENNINGTON

By Waldo C. Waring

The membership suddenly increased 200 per cent, the Bard Outing Club accepted an invitation and travelled to Bennington College Bel- tany afternoon. Four automobiles were loaded with students and led by Hendrick from Home Row to Bennington.

Arriving in time for an afternoon tour especially for the hard- bodied were immediately asked the question “Are all you boys in the Cutting Club?” and the answer was “Yes”, while they were at the same time “No”, quite handsomely.

New Department for Next Issue of “Sketchbook”

The December issue of the Sketchbook will be ready for distribution on or about December fifteenth if it is announced this week. The issue will contain a new section of reviews and criticism to be called Cool School. Included will be reviews on the Broadway productions of father starting John Gielgud, the Group Theatre’s new play, “The War at Home” by John Logan, and William Faulkner’s “As I Lay Lying,” and others.

BEHIND TRENCHES, SHOWN IN PLAY

A REVIEW

As Harold Hague pointed out in his article, “The War More Than Meets the Eye,” the most important thing the student can do is to go and see a play. We cannot learn about the war by reading about it, but we must see it and learn from it.

Outing Club Trip to Bennington

By Waldo H. Waring

The membership suddenly increased 200 per cent, the Bard Outing Club accepted an invitation and travelled to Bennington College Bel- tany afternoon. Four automobiles were loaded with students and led by Hendrick from Home Row to Bennington.

Arriving in time for an afternoon tour especially for the hard- bodied were immediately asked the question “Are all you boys in the Cutting Club?” and the answer was “Yes”, while they were at the same time “No”, quite handsomely.

New Department for Next Issue of “Sketchbook”

The December issue of the Sketchbook will be ready for distribution on or about December fifteenth if it is announced this week. The issue will contain a new section of reviews and criticism to be called Cool School. Included will be reviews on the Broadway productions of father starting John Gielgud, the Group Theatre’s new play, “The War at Home” by John Logan, and William Faulkner’s “As I Lay Lying,” and others.

HENRYS’ SHOW AT WHITNEY

Henryk Biling, visiting art in- stitute student, is giving an exhibition at the Whitney Biennial. The exhibition consists of 32 paintings and 12 sculptures, all executed during the last two years and made in New York City.

New Department for Next Issue of “Sketchbook”

The December issue of the Sketchbook will be ready for distribution on or about December fifteenth if it is announced this week. The issue will contain a new section of reviews and criticism to be called Cool School. Included will be reviews on the Broadway productions of father starting John Gielgud, the Group Theatre’s new play, “The War at Home” by John Logan, and William Faulkner’s “As I Lay Lying,” and others.

SONG RECALL

BY JENNY LEE

AT BARD HALL

On Thursday evening, December tenth, at twelve-fifteen, the Non-Beethovenian Society will hold its last meeting of the year, with Jenny Lee in the chair. She will introduce a new pianist, Dr. Richard L. Bingham, who will play the Beethovenian sonata No. 8. The meeting will conclude with a song recital by Jenny Lee in the chair.

COURTSHIP IN SCOTLAND

By Waldo H. Waring

The membership suddenly increased 200 per cent, the Bard Outing Club accepted an invitation and travelled to Bennington College Bel- tany afternoon. Four automobiles were loaded with students and led by Hendrick from Home Row to Bennington.

Arriving in time for an afternoon tour especially for the hard- bodied were immediately asked the question “Are all you boys in the Cutting Club?” and the answer was “Yes”, while they were at the same time “No”, quite handsomely.

New Department for Next Issue of “Sketchbook”

The December issue of the Sketchbook will be ready for distribution on or about December fifteenth if it is announced this week. The issue will contain a new section of reviews and criticism to be called Cool School. Included will be reviews on the Broadway productions of father starting John Gielgud, the Group Theatre’s new play, “The War at Home” by John Logan, and William Faulkner’s “As I Lay Lying,” and others.

COURTSHIP IN SCOTLAND

By Waldo H. Waring

The membership suddenly increased 200 per cent, the Bard Outing Club accepted an invitation and travelled to Bennington College Bel- tany afternoon. Four automobiles were loaded with students and led by Hendrick from Home Row to Bennington.

Arriving in time for an afternoon tour especially for the hard- bodied were immediately asked the question “Are all you boys in the Cutting Club?” and the answer was “Yes”, while they were at the same time “No”, quite handsomely.

New Department for Next Issue of “Sketchbook”

The December issue of the Sketchbook will be ready for distribution on or about December fifteenth if it is announced this week. The issue will contain a new section of reviews and criticism to be called Cool School. Included will be reviews on the Broadway productions of father starting John Gielgud, the Group Theatre’s new play, “The War at Home” by John Logan, and William Faulkner’s “As I Lay Lying,” and others.
HELP THE RED HOOK POOR... Continued from page one

It is just as easy for the present that they are in need of our help. They are not asking for daily rations or food but for necessary extras—winter clothing, milk or eggs, flour, bacon, cornmeal, essential nourishment, glasses, shoes, hospital care.

Last year we were able to give these people one hundred dollars and fifty pounds of food. The money and these goods had been voted by the Council. The balance was made up by a number of our members who contributed vegetables for one dinner. This sacrifice did not hurt the students and benefited a lot of kids in Red Hook.

Let us do the same and more this year. Let us put all our energy into the fund drive to help Mimi Morgan, the Red Hook nurse, and let us do it in a big way.

One hundred and twenty-five dollars and clothing... Care that only being as good our Christmas holiday.

THE CONVENIENCE OF ABSENTEE-MINDEDNESS

L I B R A R Y books are for the use of the college community. They should not be regarded as personal possessions or no one's possessions. A student borrowing a book from the library should return it within a specified time, and should do so promptly.

Unfortunately, no idea prevails on campus that the act of signing out a book estate no responsibility.

The students are not blameless in this connection. There is the fact that they keep a catalog in their room for several weeks. They jump to the conclusion that each orderness is a sign of a wanton theft.

Such carelessness is a better sign of incapability. If a boy cannot carry certain duties in his perfect order, then in a library a more obvious and easier task is really put on his head.

We stand in line for books, which are easily excused when it is natural, and then only. Absent-mindedness culminates in the ultimate in a place where we can return library books on time.

We need not be bothered with heavy fines or with missing books. But we will be bothered with these inconveniences unless we become a little more orderliness in our relationships with the library.

COUNCIL ON STUDENT FUNDS... THIS Student Council has spoken on the distribution of Convocation funds. Its decision amounts to little more than the present that they are in need of more money for various purposes. The purpose of the Council for making these funds to the general public. We will lock our doors. We will install a burglar alarm system and important the standard body of security regulations.

But frankly any such contention is without foundation. Convocation funds are held in a general account, and for the first time in many years became an empty account. The problem of what to do with the funds was handled, a paper was produced which was laudable and Hoeber and staff members (approved by the Council) amounting to the amount of funds that were turned over. These funds are now being held at the Union Bank.

Under the present system students are authorized to use the funds but they cannot spend the money for their own use. Funds given to Miss Barton's office will be a central hangout for the college community and there will be no use of funds to meet the calls of the telephone bills.
The starting Bard lineup was, as expected, Bates and Burrell at the forwards, front center, and Pickard and Flinaker at the guard posts. While not many substitutions were made, each player in the starting line-up seemed to be doing something worth doing. The only change in the starting line-up was the substitution of Davis, who joined the team man for man from the reserves to replace an injured player.

The game opened with the Bard team in the lead, 8-0. However, the game soon turned into a tie, and the score remained 8-8 for the rest of the first half. The game continued in a very close and even manner, with both teams fighting hard for the lead. The final score was 13-12, with Bard winning by one point.

With the win, the Bard team moved to the top of the standings, while the Redfield team remained in second place. The next game for Bard is against the fourth place team, while Redfield will face the third place team.

Seniors, Sophomores, Win on Court

On November twenty-fourth, the Junior basketball team defeated the Freshman 34-24. This was the same outcome as the season’s first game, which the team won by a point. The game was held in the gymnasium, and the final score was 34-24 in favor of the Juniors.

The game started with the Juniors in the lead, 14-6. However, the Sophomores quickly took control of the game, and by the end of the first half, the score was tied at 20-20. The second half was a close match, with both teams fighting hard to win. The final score was 34-24 in favor of the Juniors.

Congratulations to the Juniors and Sophomores on their win. The team is now tied for first place in the league. The next game for the team is against the Senior team, and the outcome is expected to be very close.

CONCERNING SANTA CLAUS . . .

Let’s look at this Christmas Gift question with a calm spirit and a tranquil mind. Each year, we get home from college and somehow there are so many things to do, and people to see, and places to go, that before we are aware of its presence, there it is.

Lucky is the perfect solution for this deplorable situation. Come to Lucky now and complete your shopping before you start home. Your will find Lucky a store of every type of gift, for every person on your list, and, we out our chest, our prices are soothing to the tired and badly damanged budget.

LUCKEY PLATT & CO.
In Poughkeepsie

With the Squad

It’s a beautiful day outside, the sun is shining, and the air is crisp. The perfect day for a game of basketball. The team is ready, and the crowd is excited. The game is about to start, and everyone is on edge, waiting for the first shot.

The game begins, and both teams play hard, trying to gain the upper hand. The scoring is tight, and the crowd cheers with every basket. The game goes on for the full 40 minutes, with both teams giving their all.

In the end, it comes down to the final seconds. The score is tied, and the ball is in the hands of the home team. The clock ticks down, and the pressure builds. The home team scores, and the crowd erupts. The game is over, and everyone is happy.

The team celebrates together, and the fans cheer. It’s a great day, and everyone is looking forward to the next game.
THE BARDIAN

BACH ORATORIO TO PREACH HERE

NEW DEPARTMENT FOR NEXT ISSUE OF 'SKETCHBOOK'

ART EXHIBIT AT ORIENT GALLERY

COLLECTIONS BEGIN TO RELIEVE POOR

HORRORS OF WAR BEHIND TRENCHES SHOWN IN PLAY

...mild ripe tobaccos
from the Carolinas, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland and Virginia—there's a plenty of the best in Chesterfield.

...aromatic tobaccos
from Turkey and Greece—and plenty to make Chesterfields taste better—and different.

...for the good things smoking can give you
...enjoy Chesterfields