THE Varsity vs. Bowdoin Saturday THE

TEAM IN GOOD SHAPE TO MEET MAINE MEN

First Game of Season to be Played at Brunswick

The 1925 football season for St. Stephen's will open on Saturday afternoon when the varsity will meet the Bowdoin eleven at Brunswick, Me. A squad of over 36 men has been practicing almost daily since Labor Day in preparation for this contest and others to follow. The candidates who reported for early football practice have been working hard and faithfully under Coach Bray and his assistants Frolich, Armstrong and Jones. They will be in perfect physical condition for the Bowdoin game and will leave campus on Friday determined to win the first game of the year.

In discussing the opening game, Coach Bray said, "We don't expect to find Bowdoin as unprepared as last year. The Bowdoin men are being coached by Gates of Yale, who is known of his ability in bringing his team into quick condition and readiness."

Last Year Men Return

Coach Bray has expressed himself as pleased with the men who, to date, have reported for football practice. In addition to Captain Deloria, whose picture appears elsewhere in this paper, a number of last year's varsity men have returned including "Slicker" Harding, who made such an enviable record for himself in 1924. He is starting the season in better condition than he ever started a previous season and should prove a valuable man on the team.

The added experience of last year's football and his leadership in spring practice should make Wilson a valuable man. Coach Bray expects this to be the best season that "Joe" has ever put in. Mention must also be made of "Butch" Harvey. Although only a sophomore, there is no one on the squad in whom the men have more confidence than "Butch." Coach Bray is determined to vitalize all of Harvey's remarkable speed which, for a time last year, failed to get sufficient recognition.

Big Tom Luepke, who went over 200 pounds last year and has returned at 170 pounds, appears to be train-

CAPTAIN DELORIA

Captain Deloria is entering the climax of his football career. He is in the best shape ever and shows promise of making an enviable record this season. He has already won his fellow men on the squad by his leadership and the quality of his playing.

Summer Visitors Leave Trade-Marks

Early arrivals on campus were interested to note that during the summer many visitors to St. Stephen's had left their mark in passing, and these marks were found on the blackboards of the west classroom in Bard Hall. The inscriptions tell their own story. Here are some of them:

July 10, '25, Amherst Greetings to St. Stephen's.

GET-TOGETHER IN GYM. THURS. NIGHT

Students Will Meet To Give Departing Team a Send-off.

On Thursday evening, a general "Get-together" meeting of all students will be held in Memorial Gymnasium. All of the new men as well as the old are asked to be present at this gathering. It will be a time for the new and old to become acquainted and for the new to become more familiar with St. Stephen's and its traditions.

The meeting has been called for 8 o'clock and will be presided over by Garvey Jones, president of convocation. The latter part of the evening will be devoted to giving the varsity a send-off before the Bowdoin game, which is to be played Saturday. President Bell will deliver an address of welcome, Coach Bray will have a few words to say, and Captain Deloria will also speak. Cheerleaders Linsley and Davey will be on hand to lead the singing and cheering.

The cry is "Everybody Out" and make an appearance at the gym tomorrow night.

Albee Hall Sets Standard for Dorms

New Building is Furnished Complete By Donor.

Nothing in the way of college dormitories can compare with Albee Hall, as it now stands completed. It was donated to the college by Edward F. Albee, head of the Keith-Albee vaudeville circuit, and although the building as it appeared at commencement week last spring was beautiful and pleasing enough, Mr. Albee was not satisfied. He insisted that he be allowed to furnish it completely, and this he has done with the artistic taste shown in furnishings of his theatres, which are famous everywhere for their interior beauty. Expense has apparently not been considered. What Mr. Albee wanted to do was to provide a dormitory where students could live and study in comfort. He has done more than that. He has given them style as well as comfort. He has furnish-

"PETE" HEGELMAN NEW TRAINER, HAS WIDE EXPERIENCE

IN YOUTH, GAINED REPUTATION
AS A TRACK STAR

IS POPULAR WITH MEN

PETER HEGELMAN

If there is anyone on campus who has become popular, not only with the football men, but with all with whom he has come in contact, it is Peter Hegelman, the new trainer. Coach Bray feels that he has been most fortunate in securing the services of Hegelman, or "Pete" as he is better known to the football men, who is considered to be one of the best known, best liked, and best equipped trainers in the game. He has already proven himself a worthy success to Jack Kelly, last year's trainer.

Hegelman has had a wealth of experience, not only in the training field, but as a track star. Many Olympic athletes have had their training under "Pete." For more than 15 years Hegelman was connected with the Millrose Athletic Club, an organization well known in the sports world.

"Pete's" career as a trainer and athlete is an interesting one beginning when he was a youngster 15 years of age, the time he first became a runner. He won his first import-

WELCOME AND THANKS

It is rather difficult to utter simultaneously the words "welcome" and "thanks." Very few can do it. We are among those able to do it without sounding as if we are mimicking anyone. Read below.

To the "sour-doughs" in the professorial and undergraduate ranks we extend both arms, as befits our emotions, and clasp each other almost lovingly. However, it should not be understood by the children in our midst that it is a sign of hopeless resignation. We do not grasp one another, as do the opposite sides of a pyramid, for support. Rather it is because we are joyous that we do so, for now we are reunited and can cuss out with all the vigor of several semesters' practice the curriculum, the administration, exams, et cetera. The result is in truth a lively obligation to the incessant carolings of the administrators.

To the freshmen, God bless you in your collegiate incipency, we can merely say that life here will be as full of mercy for your failings as you have hoped. Please do not pay too much attention to the morbid warblings of the sophs. You will have to separate the dross from the gold and govern yourselves accordingly. When in doubt ASK! Late to study and early to rise maketh a freshman attain full size.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the generosity of Mr. Albee. We know that his gifts to the college will make everyone happy, for we are rapidly becoming equal in every way with the best colleges in Christendom. We wish to take this opportunity to express to Mr. Albee the thanks, not only of the men sufficiently fortunate to have their quarters in the new dormitory, but also of the campus at large. The spirit of the founders of our Alma Mater is being most splendidly carried out by our benefactors, for we have, too, our new science building, Hegeman Hall, given in memory of John Rogers Hageau, first president of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The Lyre Tree's new title-head is the work of Frank S. Patterson who most willingly offered to perfect the design suggested to him. Mr. Patterson not only merits the thanks of the Board but also of the entire student body, for a college is judged to a large extent by the quality of its publications.

Why Not?

By HAM

The First Four Letters of the New Year.

Freshman,

Dear Mother,

Honestly I'm crazy about it. College is every thing I thought it would be. The crowd up here is great. They all speak to each other. We go to Chapel every evening, and it sure is a fine, manly service. Everyone's awfully keen about going. Guess I'll go out for football. I can hardly wait until I have a chance to do some real studying. Had tea with one of the "profs" the other day. He was awfully human. He made a lot of original wise-cracks—cynical, you know. He said he rather be talked about than not to be talked about at all, and a lot of things like that. He's all wised-up himself—seen the world, and spent the summer in Paris.

Your son,

Junior.

Sophomore,

Dear Mother,

Well we're all here to-gether again. I hope someone is getting a thrill, from that. Just like one big family, etc. The Faculty restrained any unseemly indications of a great emotion when it espied me anew. My roommate had everything settled when I arrived. He got high-hat when I asked him if he minded my putting a few personal belongings on the fire-escape. The new men are here.

I hope to murder several. Please tell Father to send me a check immediately. Books are terribly high this year, and the children in South Africa need pajamas. I don't think that we half appreciate our missionaries. I could do with a fiver.

Bertram.

Junior,

Dear Mother,

The sun is setting o'er the distant mountain range. All is suffused in saffron, shot through with gold. A few swallows hover like sentinels a'er the peaks. My God, a star—Twilight! I have decided to adopt journalism for my life-work. The Dean says that there are several good courses in English, which I might take. I hope my new choice will please father. You may assure him that I shall never think meanly of real estate, and I hope he continues to do well in the same.

Affectionately yours,

Perly.

Senior,

Mother dear,

As you doubtless know, I am now a senior, and I don't intend to take back-talk from anybody. This, of course, is a perillous year. I must graduate. Although I shall never ingratiate myself to anyone, I shall deport myself, nevertheless, most courteously toward all my professors. After all, they are older than I, and it is only just that they should be met with respect. I want them to know that I do appreciate them. None of my younger fellow-students knew me as a freshman. I shall be dignified, mother dear, but not unbending.

Your devoted son,

Lester.

ed the building with nothing but the best.

The furniture, tables and chairs excepted, is of all steel construction matchlessly furnished in a single color which is green for the first floor, brown for the second, and blue for the third floor. The bed is of the Simmons "Built for Sleep" model and was outfitted with mattress, sheets, blankets, pillow, pillow case, and cover by Mr. Albee. Each room, as well as the corridors, is carpeted. all the rooms have been fitted with imported curtains. Even the details such as desks pads, blotters, ink-wells, lamps, and waste-baskets were not omitted. An easy chair was also provided.

The middle room of each of the six was furnished with two luxurious chairs, a large divan, and a beautiful mahogany table as well as a reading lamp.

Mr. Albee not only furnished the dormitory in this unexpected style and fashion, but he also provided the four suites in the Albee Annex with the same sort of comfortable and expensive appointments. These suites are for the use of professors. The two social rooms for the students and faculty are lavishly provided with chairs and tables, and for these two rooms Mr. Albee has also given pictures. Pictures of the presidents of the United States have been hung in the students' room and pictures of college presidents have been hung in the faculty room.

CALL FOR REPORTERS

The editors of the Lyre Tree have issued a call for freshman candidates as reporters on the college newspaper. Freshmen who would like to try for a place on the staff are asked to see Mr. Griswold in the Lyre Tree office, Ludlow Willinck, Thursday and Friday afternoons of this week between 4 and 5 o'clock. Previous experience in newspaper writing is not necessary.

ed down too fine. His condition is causing "Pete" Hegelman a certain amount of worry, but it is expected he will be in good shape for the opening game.

Other men of last year who have returned are Gruver, Kennedy, who made a fine showing in the Rochester game; Urquhart; Rogen, who showed great promise as a sub quarter last year; McKean, a last year sub who gave his best in every game he played.

New Men Report.

A number of the new men have pleased Coach Bray and they are expected to be a big help on the varsity. George Schallenberger, who played in Northern New York high school football at center with Olean, is one of the most feared men in that section of the country. He has been true to form on the practice field and stands an even break of making the varsity this year.

Edward Abramowski played end on the East High School team, Erie, Pa., last year. This was the championship team of the city and Abramowski proved a great help in winning games. He also established a reputation as a track man in the ¼ mile and shot-put.

Hans Guerein last year won the Carey cup of Erie for being the best all-round athlete in Erie. He is conceded to be the fastest 100 yard man in Pennsylvania. He is out for the backfield and, according to Coach Bray, is showing great promise.

John Watkinson of Hartford, Conn., transfer from the Connecticut Aggies where he played tackle on the freshman team, is also showing great promise. He has quickly caught the attention of the coaches and is worthy of watching.

Another good man among the new men is Charles Goutell, who played end on Hobart's varsity last year. John Milliman, fullback, will very likely fill Grant Noble's shoes as kicker. He is expected to be one of the most promising players ever enrolled at St. Stephen's. Other new men who have not escaped unnoticed are Vreeland, a 200 pound guard from Montclair High School; Jacobus, from Upper Montclair; and Keene of Oneonta.

There are several good men both new and old who were late in reporting. Among the old are Ken Murry and Milington; among the new men Damitz of Morristown; Raab of Diehl, N. J.; Strahon of Montclair, and Voegeli. A number of last year's scrub men have also reported for practice including Stevens, Stolp, Kroll, Kunkle, George Moser, and Doggett.

Up to press time, Coach Bray had not picked his varsity squad and was unable to announce the line-up for the Bowdoin game.

Second Team Games.

Manager Ferris has arranged an attractive schedule for the second team and the first game will be played Saturday against the N. Y. M. A. at Cornwall. The second team of ant race when he was 17 years old. This was at the old Madison Square Garden in 1884 when the Manhattan Athletic Club staged a five mile race. Race after race followed for Hegelman and in 1888, he won the 25 mile open championship race at the Elite rink in Philadelphia. His time of the race was two hours and 36 minutes on a 12 lap track. The following year he competed at four different races in Philadelphia and won prizes at each one.

For long distance races, Hegelman holds several records. He holds the best record for races that were held four hours a night for six consecutive nights. At Chelsea, Mass., in 1892, he established the record of 192 miles in a week, an average of 32 miles a night for six nights.

His last big race was staged at Madison Square Garden under the management of Pat Powers. In this race Cavanaugh was his partner and these two men still are the world's record holders of long distance running. The two men traveled 775 miles in six days.

In 1904, Hegelman started his career as a trainer and since that time has been training various well known athletic clubs and a number of football clubs.
