Scarlet Outclassed by Canadian Team in 11-2 Game

Kroll, "25, Captain-Elect

The varsity brought the lacrosse season to a close with an 11 to 2 defeat of the more experienced Toronto team. The home team was outclassed by the University players both in weight and experience, but against such odds they played good lacrosse for the first half of the game. Their offensive work far surpassed their defensive work and though the ball was kept for the greater part of the time in the visitors' territory, they were unable to score more than the two goals which were netted during the early minutes of the game. The Scarlet's favorite play, the pass over the net from back to front, which heretofore has been very successful, failed to be effective. The playing was very ragged and poor. The home team took the offensive at once, and, after several long shots on the goal proved unsuccessful, Patterson managed to make the first scoring. The offense carried the Toronto goal but, because of their failure to make the second goal, left several opportunities to score. Toronto followed Patterson's lead, and scored immediately after, making the score 1-1. This they followed up with another by the home man and still another on a long run through the Scarlet defense, which made the score 3-1. Time out was called for the home team and when play was resumed Eoinington scored St. Stephen's second goal, on a fine shot from the side of the crease. At half time the score stood 3 to 2 in favor of the Canadianists.

The second half opened up very much like the first, with the ball in the visitors' territory, but a rally started by Wallace, the star man on the Toronto twelve, proved fatal to their efforts. After that the Scarlet were overpowered and rolled up eight more goals, making the final score 11 to 2. The playing of the visitors was slow, steady, and accurate, the result of more experience than the home team had had. Their team play was excellent, and when they brought the ball down into their opponent's territory they generally made a goal, though Smith, at point, played a very good blocking game, and Kroll, playing cover point, did some fine work in intercepting passes.

Dr. Edwards Appointed Dean by Trustees

Student Government Will Continue

At the May meeting of the Board of Trustees, on the nomination of the President approved by the faculty, Prof. Lyford Paterson Edwards, Ph.D., of the Department of Social Science, was appointed Dean for the academic year of 1927-28. By new definition of responsibility agreed upon by faculty and Board of Trustees, all discipline of students outside of classes, libraries, and laboratories will be solely in the hands of Dr. Edwards, who is responsible only to the Board of Trustees for his decisions.

He has announced that student government will be continued as long as it works as well as it has this year, and no radical change in disciplinary matters is contemplated.

Dr. Edwards came to St. Stephen's eight years ago, from Rice Institute, Houston, Tex. He received his degree of Ph.D. from the University of Chicago.

He is a Doctor of the University of Wisconsin, and an honor graduate of Oxford University.

Senior Ball Was Complete Success

Function Delightful to All Who Attended

The bewitching atmosphere of a tropical night blended with the subtle harmony of the "Jersey Collegians" to render the Senior Ball one of the most successful social functions of St. Stephen's. The dance was held on Friday evening, May 20th, in Memorial Gymnasium, which was transformed for the occasion to represent the "Everglades." Far superior to any which have played here at previous functions was the orchestra which came from "Hofbrau" in New York City. The program of twenty dances was interrupted at midnight when the merry dancers retired to Commons to partake of a delicious supper; after which the dance was resumed until four o'clock. In the "three o'clock" the couples departed, weary but happy with novelties of a perfect evening.

Although the Ball was complete in itself, the students and their guests enjoyed additional entertainment at dances at the houses of the Elexian, Kappa Gamma Chi, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternities on Saturday evening. Many guests remained on campus to enjoy the timely hospitality of these groups.

The Senior Ball has established a precedent at St. Stephen's. Words are not adequate to eulogize the Dance Committee which worked the success of this affair in its every detail. Special mention must be made of the entire work of Messrs. Frank Patterson and Harold Bartley, who outdid themselves in decorating the hall. Gratitude is also to be extended to the faculty and student body for helping to make the affair a success.

Patrons and patronesses were:
President and Mrs. Bernard I. Bell,
Dean and Mrs. Carleton C. Upton,
Bishop and Mrs. William F. Manning,
Dr. and Mrs. Alexander G. Cummins,
Mr. and Mrs. Haley Flake,
Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Albee,
Dr. and Mrs. George M. Miller,
Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Delano,
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brewster,
Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Barker.

The Senior Ball Committee consisted of Messrs. Shringle, Bartley, Crandell, Mentzer, and Patterson.
THE LYRE TREE

In behalf of the student body and the faculty, the Lyre Tree wishes publically to thank the Bennett School for the invitation extended to St. Stephen's to attend the production of the "Medea" of Euripides. During the past few years the sojourn to Millbrook has become a tradition at St. Stephen's. The excellent performances of Greek drama have there been an invaluable asset to the students of Greek life and drama here at St. Stephen's. Our attendance at the plays has been ample evidence of our appreciation and we hope that future years we shall come to think of Millbrook as we do.

SUMMER COURSES

With the closing of the regular classes at the colleges, many of the institutions are preparing to give short courses during the summer, principally for the benefit of teachers. Indications are that the enrollment will be larger than ever.

The willingness thus disclosed to study the hot weather makes pertinent the question if it might not be well for the higher educational institutions to "carry on" throughout the year, suspending only for a couple of weeks. Almost all the universities are open for regular students only nine months in the year. Is this not a relic of the days when the students were drawn from the ranks of well-to-do people who could afford to take a long vacation? And is it not a wasteful and costly practice under present conditions when so many youths who are poor financially or in only moderate circumstances are striving to obtain collegiate education? If it were possible for them to attend classes throughout the year they would complete the work necessary for graduation in three years instead of four. The saving of time, as well as of money, which would thus be accomplished, would attract students who might be deterred through unwillingness to give four years to this work.

ORDAINED TO DIACONATE

On Ascension Day, May 26, Thomas Richey, '24, was ordained to the Diaconate, by the Bishop of Delaware, in Wilmington, from the General Theological Seminary.

Leopold Kroll, '24, and Otto Simmonds, '24, of General, will receive their ordination on Trinity Sunday, June 12, in the Cathedral, New York City.

Herbert Comstock, '23, will also be ordained Deacon on that day, in St. Paul's, Boston.

New Professor of

Dr. John T. Krupelmann, Ph.D., will occupy the chair of Associate Professor of Germanic Languages, beginning with the fall term. He is at present Assistant Professor of German in the University of North Carolina.

This new member of St. Stephen's faculty is thirty-six years old and single. He comes from an old New Orleans family. His early education was received in the public schools of that city, from which he went to Tulane University, where he received the degrees of B.A. and M.A. In addition, Dr. Krupelmann earned an M.A. and his Ph.D. at Harvard. All degrees were awarded as results of a major in German literature, with a minor in Greek.

He has been an instructor in both Lehigh and Harvard Universities, and is now Assistant Professor in the University of North Carolina for the three years past. His specialty is 19th century literature. Besides being the "Harvard Taylor," Interpreter of Germany to America," he is a frequent contributor to the German Press.

During the World War Dr. Krupelmann served as a second lieutenant in the U. S. A.

THE INTERCAMPUS

Platonic Love is the relation between the man and woman who have taken Philosophy courses together.

The great majority of college students do not attend the chapel services, not because there is no religion in them, but because the chapel services do not and cannot satisfy their craving for religious expression.

The happiest people in the world belong to one of three classes: (1) Those who have a very definite, consuming goal; (2) Those who find living a glorious, fascinating, mysterious adventure; (3) Fools.

Choral songs abound; heard in Newark, Mansfield, and Granville. Is going to a nearby town the Kenyon student's idea of a trip abroad?

One of the finest old, small colleges in the Middle West recently discovered that seventeen freshmen cheated in an examination, although they had pledged to uphold the honor system. The offenders have been allowed to remain in college, but will be dinned in the course affected. In an editorial on the affair, a writer asks if the ideal of the gentleman is being supplanted by collegiate. All of which leads us to wonder if colleges are producing the gentleman, or the collegiate.

We hear that "a coach in one college is going to publish a book on how to run an athletic team on $7,98 for the season."

Students of McGill University have formed a society for the suppression of vice. Among other things they desire to abolish the abuses of all college dances.

Fraternities which did not participate in the policy would thus be accused of not wanting to be part of the fun. A college society at the University of Kentucky was given tea cups by the oath, in behalf of their service.

A southern college paper editor recently had an editorial hemmorhage when the faculty issued an edict that all students must turn in their revolver; he considered it a shameful indication of efficiency.

COLLEGIUM IN COLLEGIO

A college within the college dedicated to students who want to study the dream of a group of professors and students at Pomona College, California. A faculty-student committee has been at work since November 17, 1929, on a plan for extending the voluntary study system and has just released its formulated plans.

In substance the report provides for further extension of the present honors courses and their incorporation in a "college in college," an inner college, within the larger college. (Continued on page 4)
Favorite Artists
Return to College

On Monday evening, May 23rd, the college was entertained by two familiar and popular artists, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ideler, who offered a delightful violin-piano program. Mr. Ideler in many of his numbers displayed remarkable ability in double-stop work. He possesses an unusual combination of artistry and technique. In honor of the centenary of Beethoven, the artists offered his “Sonata in A major” which was well rendered. Mrs. Ideler offered two piano solos, which also were well executed.

The program in its entirety was as follows: “Legende,” Wieniawski; “ Mazurka,” Wieniawski; Piano and Violin: “Sonata” in A major, Beethoven.

VARSITY LOSES TO TWO OPPONENTS

On Thursday, May 19, the varsity tennis team bowed in defeat before the strong Fordham team. The game was played on the home courts in spite of two days of heavy rain. In the late afternoon the courts were still soggy but after burning over the surface with gasoline, they were fair for play. Both teams were handicapped by low bouncing balls and slippery courts. In spite of the weather and the condition of the courts Fordham displayed an unusual brand of tennis. An enthusiastic crowd followed the matches from court to court and heard the unfortunate results. The final score was 5-1 in favor of Fordham. Captain Morrill took the only match for the Saints.

On Friday, May 20, the Middlebury men won an easy victory over the varsity. Wolfsekhl of Middlebury gave the gallery a treat by his spirited rallies and sudden bursts of speed. The matches were all sharply contested and many of the games came to decisive scores, but the final result was overwhelmingly in favor of the visitors. Middlebury won the match by a 6-0 score.

The line-up for the matches was as follows:

Singles

Doubles
St. Stephen’s: Brunet and Morrill, McKeen and Faascher. Fordham: King and Carter, Donohue and McCarthy. Middlebury: Wolfsekhl and Seymour, Hinds and Young.

BOOK WILL APPEAR DURING THE SUMMER

Dr. Lyman P. Edwards, Dean and Professor of Social Science, has announced that the book upon which he has been working for some time will be published this summer, in the month of July.

The title of the work is "Natural History of Revolution." It will be published by the University of Chicago Press, in the series of sociological publications which they have put forth. Dr. Edwards' book is one of about 250 pages.

RECEIVES REWARD OF MEMBERSHIP

A new member of the Board of Trustees of this college is Mr. Francis M. Terhune, elected at the May meeting of the Board. Mr. Terhune has been for some years treasurer to the body in which he now takes membership.

He is the first man ever to be elected to the Board of Trustees of St. Stephen's College outside of the membership of the Episcopal denomination. Mr. Terhune is a Presbyterian.

JUNIOR VARSITY BEATEN DESPITE HARD STRUGGLE

On Saturday, May 21, the Junior Varsity lost their matches with Hoo- nick School on the home courts at Annandale. The local players gave the visitors a hard fight but were beaten decisively by a 6-4 score. Several of the matches went to three sets and exciting rallies frequently brought the gallery to their feet.

The line-up was as follows:

Singles
St. Stephen's: Haess, Gellert, Gali, Rappold.

Doubles
St. Stephen's: Haess and Gellert, Dillen and Hawkins.
Hoonick: J. and E. Rogers, S. Adams and Ayerison.

The joint committee registered emphatic agreement on one point, namely: "That Pomona's chief function is to develop clear thinking men and women trained in analysis and synthesis, able to participate in the life of the college on the basis of their own initiative and enthusiasm, and so to develop power to relate themselves with intelligence, pleasure, purpose and effectiveness to the swiftly changing physical and social world of the generation."—"The New Student."
