St. Stephen's Delegation Attends St. Paul's Conference

Intercollegiate Conference of Those Contemplating the Ministry.

At the conference to study the ministry, the Rev. Dr. Stephen White was prominently represented by the following men: Dr. Curtis, Law, Addis, Haynes, Kravitz, Mullings, Peppell, Milton, Oliphant, House and Wallin.

Dr. Drury, Rector of St. Paul's School, in commenting on the conference, believes it to be held "in the right spirit of study for the ministry, not so much in the spirit of the minister, but in the spirit of the student". The conference was opened at 10 o'clock and adjourned at 3 o'clock.

The Rev. Dr. Drury, at the close of the conference, said: "We are truly grateful to be able to hold this conference, in which the students of several colleges and the students of the student body of St. Paul's School, have been represented by the following men: Dr. Curtis, Law, Addis, Haynes, Kravitz, Mullings, Peppell, Milton, Oliphant, House and Wallin.

Law School Wins By One Point Thrilling Game Marks Saints First Appearance in Albany.

In their first appearance at Albany this year, the St. Stephen's football team, dropped a thrilling game by one point to the Albany Law School.

Despite a long and hard-fought game, the Saints held firm and won the game with a few minutes left on the clock. In the second half of the game, the Saints scored two points in the second half, and with a minute to go, the Saints' lead of 4-3, in the final, was able to hold on to win the game.

Mr. Fiskin, the head coach of the Saints, said: "We are happy to have won this game, especially with the weather conditions that we had to deal with. The Saints had to hold on to win this game and we are proud of our team for their hard work and dedication.

In the first half of the game, the Saints were trailing by four points. In the second half, the Saints scored two points to tie the game, and with a minute left on the clock, the Saints scored another point to win the game.

The Saints were led by Mr. Fiskin, who said: "We are happy to have won this game, especially with the weather conditions that we had to deal with. The Saints had to hold on to win this game and we are proud of our team for their hard work and dedication.

First In Series Of Interfraternity Dances Tonight Supper and Dancing in K. G. X. House After Hockey Game With Middlebury.

As the first of a series of interfraternity dances tonight, the Kappa Gamma Chapter will entertain the members of the fraternities of Middlebury College, with a dance at 8 p.m. The dance will be held in the Main Hall, and there will be a cash bar on hand.

The dance is the first of a series of interfraternity dances that will be held throughout the year, and it is expected to be a great success.

Union Wins In Extra Period Game Scarlet Hoosiers Lose Again To Old Rivals.

In an extra period of play, the Saints dropped a closely contested game to the Scarlet Hoosiers. The game was the first of the series of games that will be played between the two teams throughout the season.

The Scarlet Hoosiers led for the first nine minutes of the game, and then the Saints took over and played a good game. The game was closely contested throughout, and it was not until the extra period that the Saints were able to take the lead.

The Saints were led by Mr. Fiskin, who said: "We are happy to have won this game, especially with the weather conditions that we had to deal with. The Saints had to hold on to win this game and we are proud of our team for their hard work and dedication.

Advanced Study in Language No Longer Required, Dean States.

The changes in the degree requirements are a result of the recommendations made by the President's Committee on the Subject of Language Studies. The changes are designed to provide a more flexible and comprehensive approach to the study of language.

The new standards will allow students to pursue their own interests and to develop their own specialties. The changes will also provide a more rigorous and challenging experience for students.

The "Are Thieves Among Us?"

It is a disgraceful thing that this editorial has to be written, but we feel it must. Too many people are taking for their motto, "If the shoe fits, put it on." They seem to have no conception that the rightful owner might not have another pair of shoes. Perhaps you do not think that there is much stealing here. There is a student in an English class takes Scribner's as a text for his course. He has not received one of the four issues out this year. Books and magazines are constantly missing from the library. Railroaders and over-shoes are stolen. If they are taken by mistake, no effort is made to return them to their rightful owners.

Men who do these things are not friends to our society. St. Stephen's aims to train men for public life, but we do not hold up an ideal the crooked politician, the embosser of church or club funds. Some among us seem to be deliberately training themselves for this sort of thing. It is time that public opinion stopped it. We have laughed long enough at the man who "pegs away with something." We must openly condemn thiefery when we do not condemn thievery. It is time that the fever of "conceiving the right thing" impressed itself on the petty crowd.

If this petty thieving does not stop, the "Lyre Tree" will conduct a "cleaning-up campaign." There is already enough evidence gathered to make a very decent scandal.

Instead of laughing at our fellow students' "pranks," laugh them to scorn! Stop that thief!

The Clean Slate

The new year with its hopes and promises is here! A new period is at hand—we can do with it as we will! We would rectify our mistakes, we have a clean slate to write upon. If we would launch in new fields, if we would broaden, expand, grow, the time to start is now!

The years slip by before we are aware and aware. Four years in college are but a small fraction of an average lifetime. Yet while in college we should work for things which are solid as the ages. Petty ripples, differences, and controversies are forgotten soon after their occurrence—and they should be forgotten. The solid rock, the deep underlying strata of character, is the object we should seek.

In this new year we have new opportunities presented and with some force we should reinforce our present character, sincerity, ideals are the things we cherish in our collegiate days—and in later life we shall succeed or fail as we now sow. Let us overlook the petty differences which may be ever-present. But remember, our four years in

COMMUNICATION

Dear Editor,

You have been to the movies how about them, are you fairly intelligent fellow, and do not like to waste your time on something which gives you no pleasure. The family thinks it is well that we should be entertained by movies every other Saturday. This is quite proper. I am willing to be entertained. Often I cannot go to Poughkeepsie for entertainment. Why then, do not that power—just give us decent picture shows. Instead of insulting our intelligence with the cheap stuffal in the gift. I hope you do not get the idea that I am planning for "high-brow" intellectual people. I am not asking for good pictures that will satisfy my desire to be entertained. Sometimes pictures are too expensive, and there are not excellent old ones available. Have you ever noticed what small audience the movies attract here? I went one time to a prisoner selected a criminal. It was the house where movies are shown the most. I was almost ready to go; I had no interest in the films along with the prisoners. I was struck with the similarity of the type of picture shown at the place for "good-old boys" and at the college for the students. My dear editor, you know your politics for good are extremely limited, but sent you this letter to get you to do the same thing. I am not the type of people that is going to go to the movies to get a decent lesson. I thank you in advance, and just for better movies.

Very truly yours,

F. F. O. WARD

Dr. H. C. Robbins
Chapel Speaker
Delivers Interesting Sermon

The preacher in the Chapel on Sunday morning, January 12th, was the Rev. Dr. H. C. Robbins, D. D., former Dean of the General Theological Seminary of St. John the Divine in New York City, where he served as Dean of the General Theological Seminary of St. John the Divine for many years. He is also a former Bishop of the Diocese of Southern Ohio, where he served for many years. He is known for his work with young men, who are going into the ministry.

Dr. Robbins’ message was very interesting and it was understandable that a larger number of people were not present to hear it. The lack of attendance was taken from St. Paul’s Baptist to the Fifth Avenue Church, where it was held, that the sermons of this present time should be paired with the prayers that shall be used.

For the future, there were reasons to expect that such an expectation could be realized, and for the manifestation of the essence of God. That sounds a very optimistic note and optimism in these days is a very high premium.

Dr. Robbins spoke of the optimism of the days and the coming days, that we shall be happy ending. In politics, there is optimism that we shall see some governments and was admitted, that there is no shattering of the voice of the prophet.

He began by discussing the philosophy of William James, who was dispensing some philosophy. But he said that the times were not the same as the ones whom we had before. He said, "A new world..." was the only thing we can imagine. In this world, we have the dream of a better world, which tells only what the eye can see. In philosophy, we have the dream of a better world, which tells only what the eye can see. In philosophy, we have the dream of a better world, which tells only what the eye can see.

In philosophy, we have the dream of a better world, which tells only what the eye can see. In philosophy, we have the dream of a better world, which tells only what the eye can see. The president of the United States, Franklin Roosevelt, has been a leader in the struggle for a better world in the economic and social fields. Dear Billy,

You remember in my last letter I told you I was giving out for beer? I sure am glad I did! That was a fine fast game, as I'm told. Some of us on the team are going to see a game, one of these days, in the city. The theory is great, too. I've got a kick out of it.

Yesterday there was a call for parchment, but it was only another joke of the caparison. It's too bad there wasn't any play. Wait until I get my letter! I'll mail a copy of it, maybe.

Ever since I was at the saloon last week I've been wanting to put on a pink with a pink nose. Gee, people are nice, when their little noses are pink. I hope some day somebody gives me two puppies to play with. There are always more than one company for every other, and that sort of thing. Maybe a nice gentle rod would be better, then, if I should need me a farm. The last time I mentioned farming I got slapped! I wonder why.

Speaking of farming reminds me of Philadelphia. Phil. That always suggests the St. James Hotel. That's funny! Do you know of one place that's all? Or is it the other? Unfortunately! Unphilosophical, you remember I was speaking of it, we probably have an excellent swimming squad. Want you come up some time and see me swim with the team? Our first meet might be
