Thirty-Three New Men Are Matriculated

Founder's Day and All Saint's Day Coincident Simultaneously

Saturday, November 1st, was set aside by the Trustees of St. Stephen's College, with the following ceremonies: Simultaneously three major events: Matriculation, All Saints' Day and Founder's Day. At noon o'clock, the matriculation ceremony of St. Stephen's was held in its chapel. The ceremony was concluded by all the eligible new men formally signing a declaration of their intention to be loyal to Alma Mater, Stephen's College, and the ideals for which it stands.

A Mutual Appeal

Before all the effects of this year's rushing season are lost to us it would seem that the present is an opportune time to cast a glance at the plan by which there can be maintained the same normal balance in the campus life here at least since there has been this year or in any other year. It is the writer's experience that the momentum of the "shortened" period has passed the peak of enthusiasm with which there, rather than remaining here, another appeal to those all that even the innocent bystander has been detrimentally involved.

We have heard of schools wherein new men are not pledged until the Sophomore Rush. Herein these wherein these rush period until their second semester has been reached. Within our own University we find already an agreement whereby, "to freshmen entering College in the fall shall not enter any chapter house during the night. All houses will be closed at night and in the morning." This system now employed at St. Stephen's is the source of a great deal of righteous disagreement both from the administration and the students should be revised. It is also our opinion that while doing so the following ideas might be kept in mind: that the new men be allowed to enjoy a period of residence on the campus during which time they should be unharmed or disturbed by undue social pressures or rejections; that this period shall last sufficiently for at least one month; that the demands ordinarily made upon one who desires to realize the success of the prospective plan for his being here. Also, that as a result of a more gradual and most natural introduction to the social aspect of College life, a more serious process of judging, therefore, might be employed by the individual and also much concerned with it.

Finally, why not include here the idea of treating the new men with an attitude of respect such as might be shown individuals who have attended College if they are capable of making still more observations, forming their own judgements and of expressing their desires of guide should have the opportunity to show them. (Here, the brethren can appreciate the practical removal of the annual tribunal of the ballots from chapter proceedings.)

We therefore believe that in the fraternal organization will under- take to return to the individual those rights, which really are his as a rational human being and not one who has come in a particular institution for the express purpose of developing these capabilities, the care and waywardly occasional upon the rushing season should be so much that is easily distributed and considered so the resulting condition would be a reasonably close approach to normal behavior.

Dr. Fosbrooke Preaches Armistice Sermon

Shows Truth And Righteousness As Way to Peace

The preacher in the chapel on Sunday morning, November 8th, was the Rev. Harold Fosbrooke, Dr. D. Dean of the General Theological Seminary in New York City. The Sunday was observed at the church as Armistice Day, Sunday, and was Dean's section of the church of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, in New York City. His text was taken from St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans, 6:14: "Breathe therefore, having your letters about the truth, having the battleship of righteousness."

The whole of Christendom is moving toward a realization of war. There is a feeling of world peace. But what is needed is an understanding of faith. The first step in making the world a better world is to learn the truth and consequences. "Things are what they are, and consequences will be as they will be, so why practice deceit?" War means destruction and death, and it's consequences are misery and unhappiness for mankind. With this truth in our presence, there can be no compromise with War, or indifference to it's terrible consequences.

In fighting for peace of the world, we must use the weapons God has given us. We are to have on the battleship of righteousness. Righteousness is a never-ending perplexing question for most people. What is righteousness? Righteousness, we mean, is true to our convictions. Righteousness is too much sentimentalism in the talk of "warless" world. We must deal honestly with our own lives, in order to advance the cause of world peace.

If we be true with truth, and put on the battleship of righteousness, we shall be workers for world peace in a definite and effective and popular way.

EDITORIAL
An Annual

No sooner has the recent Sketch-Book difficulty been cleared up than the present Senior class votes to publish another such volume this year. Many long years ago someone said that "experience is the best teacher." We wonder if everyone must prove the truth of this adage for himself. If we could only try to profit by the experiences of others, we could probably save ourselves the oftentimes futile difficulties in which we are finding our way and things which have already been well proven.

It is well to experiment objectively, we grant, but it is also well to experiment subjectively. It seems that enough of this latter kind of experimentation has been made during the past four years, though probably unconsciously, to assure each of us the folly in trying to publish a Year-Book for this College.

The mechanism of compiling such a volume is quite complex, and the work involved is too great in proportion to the actual possible accomplishment to make the proposition sensible, under the existing circumstances on our campus.

Obviously, on the face of the question, it should be possible to publish a Year Book here. However, the cost of printing a really presentable volume for so small a number of subscribers is tremendous. The great majority of St. Stephen's students will not pay enough to make it possible for any staff to print a worthwhile book. This has been attempted by student action and opinion on this very situation during the past four years. No matter how ardent a financial committee is, it is obvious that a given sum of money cannot be stretched indefinitely. A poor Year Book is a horrid advertising for any institution, more especially for a college.

The resources this year are no greater than they have been in past years. The abolition of the Messenger does not in any way affect the advertising fee; it has merely lessened the demand for charitable gifts from the single field, which remains constant. Of course, the possibility remains that sufficient money can be raised from our limited resources to enable the to-be-elected staff to publish some sort of book and call it an Annual. We maintain, however, that a really good book cannot be published unless any previous attempts of this college will pay. Therefore, we heartily suggest that the fantastic idea of publishing another Annual be given wings.

A Correction

We wish to correct an error in the last issue of this paper regarding the library staff. Miss Tryzlyer, library assistant of last year, and was students who wanted to be eligible to vote. Seniors do not vote.

If there be two or more letter men who will be returning the following season, they should constitute the candidates for captain.

If there be but one such man mean, be together, with those junior who have served longest upon the team, shall compose the finite number of candidates for captain.

The letter man, however, is not the man of the two in point of service shall be automatically selected.

In order both of the above shall be eligible to vote in the election (continued on page 4, col. 3)

The Higher Criticism

On the evening of Monday, October 21, Mr. Ralph Wolfe gave a brilliant piano recital in the college gymnasium. Mr. Wolfe is a Bunting, a graduate of Columbia College, where, during his four years of undergraduate life he was an outstanding member of the wrestling team.

Mr. Wolfe is a pianist of distinction, who writes St. Hilary's purely as a token of his interest in the college. The program he selected for the evening identifies only by practice. Membership of the club includes all those taking French 3, 4 and 5, but any other French students will be welcomed.

At the first meeting about thirty members were present. Meetings are to be held once a month on Monday evenings. Various plans are being considered for the next meeting, with the possibility that a debate or a short French play will be given.

Library Notes

The Hoffman Library is richer by several hundred books received from the Columbia University Library. These books are choice selections from the collection of Dr. B. K. Engelmann.

The Hoffman Library has received another expression of generosity of Rev. J. C. H. Barry, D. D., who is at present residing in St. Anne's Convent, Kingston, New York. At this time his gift consisted of fourteen books. Ten of these were fiction, including five of Mark Twain's literary contributions. Another is a book by Alexander Pope, "The Works of Pope," and "The Birth of the Pope," with the "Life of Pope" by Percy Menzietelli, and "Our Business Civilization," by James Truslow Adams.

Floorslighs blazing down on triumphant figures, a mighty arm mixed high—while out of the dark a steady roar acclaim the champion who proves himself champion still.

ONE will always stand out!

NO CHAMPION ever held his laurels except by making good—no cigarette ever won and held popularity except by deserving it.

Chesterfield stands out as one cigarette that always gives smokers what they want—MILD and BETTER TASTE.

MILDNESS—the wholly natural mildness of tobacco that are without harshness or bitterness.

BETTER TASTE—such as only a cigarette of wholesome purity and better tobaccos can have.

All on the spur of the moment, last week a cross country race was arranged between Monticello High School, winner of the state interscholastic meet, and the Juperus Varian. From the standpoint of comparative scores the result was pretty telling. Monticello got all the first places that counted for anything and won by a perfect score of 11 to 40. The only real contest of the meet was between Perkins of Saint Stephen's and Needham of Monticello for the second place. Although the local runners were defeated, they were well beaten, and otherwise relegated to satisfactory consideration a good time was given by all. This was the first time in the history of cross country at St. Stephen's. Unhke there have been enough good men who stuck to the squad until this time in the season to make a junior varsity possible. It indicates the proper staff. As soon as candidates for a letter get the idea公认的fact that only the very exceptional man gets his letter this year or even two years, he'll be for the sport. The vast majority of cross country runners have to be made from raw material after they reach college. In all probability none of the Monticello boys who performed so spectacularly here faithfully will wear masonic rings at college. The high school, War who does go is the exception.
