STATE COLLEGE EASY FOR CRIMSON

Bewildering Forward Pass Attack
Accounts For 53 Points In First Half.

The Varsity had little difficulty trouncing the New York State Teachers' College by a score of 53-0 at Zabriskie Field on Saturday. Eight touchdowns were made during the first half as a result of as fine a forward passing attack as ever seen on any local gridiron. At the beginning of the third quarter Major Prince sent the entire second team into the game, and, although unable to gain materially, they had little difficulty holding their heavier opponents. In the final quarter, with six minutes to play the Varsity again took the field, but, handicapped by several penalties, the team did not score.

Captain Simmons won the toss and elected to kick off. The State College, failing to penetrate the Crimson line, punted to Bing White who, assisted by some excellent interference, ran forty-five yards for the first touchdown of the game. Deloria sent a perfect drop-kick between the posts for the extra point. State College again received but punted immediately. On the first play Deloria threw a long pass to Kilby who crossed the line for a second touchdown. Deloria missed his try for goal. The Varsity kicked off but took the ball on downs. A short pass to Kilby, followed by a long one to Lyte, accounted for the third touchdown. Deloria was successful in his try for goal by drop-kick. State College chose to kick off. After carrying the ball within scoring distance, Deloria hurled a short pass to White who made the necessary distance. Deloria kicked the goal. Simmons made the fifth touchdown for St. Stephen's on a plunge thru tackle after the ball had been taken to the State five yard line. The try for extra point failed. Several minutes later, standing on his own thirty-five yard line, Deloria threw a pass, which travelled fifty-five yards before it landed in the waiting arms of Kilby and was responsible for another touchdown. The try at goal again failed. The Varsity received and, after carrying the ball to the State two yard line, Deloria plunged thru tackle for the required distance. For the extra point he threw a short pass to Smith. After an exchange of punts Deloria sent another long pass to Kilby who again crossed the State line. A pass to Lyte accounted for the extra point. At this juncture the half ended with the score of 53-0 in favor of the Varsity, State College having failed to make a first down.

At the beginning of the third quarter, the second team took the field.

CONSTITUTION OF UNDERGRADUATES ABOLISHED

Convocation Decides to Govern Itself by a System of By-Laws

At a meeting of the undergraduates, held in Preston Hall on Tuesday evening, it was voted to do away completely with the present constitution and to enforce student government by a series of by-laws. The President and faculty had refused to ratify the constitution drawn up by the students last year unless a number of changes first be made. In addition to the above objection a number of students had complained that the document called for an altogether too unwieldy and complicated government and that it would never be able to function properly. A more simple code of laws was demanded and the recent suggestion of a faculty committee that the idea of a constitution be given up and that a system of by-laws be substituted, the fewer the better, was eagerly taken up and presented to Convocation.

President Bell addressed the meeting and explained his position in the matter. He said that he wished to see the mix-up straightened out by the students themselves as soon as possible and at the same time advised several forms of government, any one of which would be satisfactory to the faculty and himself. He concluded with the statement that he is heartily in favor of the idea of the students governing themselves but that the student government could not interfere with the provisions of the Charter of the College, the statutes of the Trustees, or the by-laws of the Faculty.

After the President's talk, power was voted to the student council to draw up a series of by-laws and present them to convocation at a meeting to be held in the near future. The student council was instructed to have regard for the following points in drawing up these by-laws.

ALL IN READINESS FOR JUNIOR PROM

The Campus is all astir in eager anticipation of the Junior Prom which is to take place on Friday evening in Memorial Gymnasium. A large number of the students have signified their intention to attend and dances are already reported to be at a premium. It is said that the class of '24 has been making elaborate preparations and that the college is due for the best Prom in its history. The usual round of entertainments will be in order at the various fraternity houses on Saturday.

ALUMNUS LECTURES

Monday evening, November 6th, Albert J. Nock '93 delivered a lecture upon "Some humbugs of present day civilization." He prefaced his remarks with the statement that whatever he might say would necessarily be an expression of the views of a literary man—Mr. Nock is Literary Editor of the Freeman. He began with some words about the humbug of patriotism. The love of country, he said, is one of the most laudable features of any society; but humbug has obscured patriotism, and made it serve base ends. Politics, bolstered up by the misleading propaganda of cheap and fluent journalism, has come to signify patriotism in our minds, and marked another triumph of materialism. His next point was the humbug of democracy. He asserted that democracy does not exist, but that there is, instead, an humbug masquerading in its place. We define democracy as "a state of society where all may vote." This is not so, for true democracy is the result not of universal suffrage but of universal property-ownership. Next he passed to the humbug of equality. The only equality which today exists

VARSITY BATTLES CONNECTICUT AGGIES TO 12-12 TIE

Thrilling Pass, Deloria To White, As Game Ends, Saves Team From Defeat.

The Crimson, fighting uphill all the way, played the strong Connecticut Agricultural College eleven to a 12-12 tie at Storrs on Saturday, November 11th. Probably few games in the history of the gridiron have had a more thrilling finish and none a more glorious one for a St. Stephen's team. With but a few seconds to play and apparently defeated by a score of 12-6, Deloria dropped back to his own twenty yard line and received a long pass from the center. Running out towards the sidelines, as if for a wide dash around end, suddenly he straightened up and threw a long pass. Meanwhile, White had managed to slip by the Aggie secondary defence and had turned. The ball travelled swift and true and descended into his outstretched arms. Turning again, he sprinted up the field for the tying touchdown. The game had ended while he was in midfield but, of course, he was allowed to complete the play. An attempted place kick for the extra point failed and the score remained a tie.

The Aggies scored first in the opening period when Hurley carried the ball across after a series of line plunges and end runs had brought them to the Varsity two yard line. Eddy missed the try for extra point. Neither team was able to score during the remainder of the first half.

At the beginning of the third period the Varsity offence opened up. Having received the kick off, by a series of brilliant forward passes and off tackle smashes, the team carried the ball to the Connecticut 25 yard yard line. Here, Deloria, dropping back ten yards threw a long pass to Kilby, who, leaping high into the air, grasped the ball and fell over the line for a touchdown. White essayed a placement for the extra point but missed the bar by inches.

A few minutes later a Varsity back fumbled a long punt and the ball rolled to the St. Stephen's ten yard line where a Connecticut end pounced upon it. Three times the Varsity line held firmly but on the fourth down Ryan, reversing his direction, skirted left end and scored. Eddy again missed his try for goal.

The remainder of the game found both teams fighting fiercely. With but a minute and a half to go, Judd intercepted an Aggie pass. Deloria, in turn, attempted a pass which grounded, then an end run. On the next play he threw the pass to White which tied the game.

THE ONE-ONE HUNDREDTH

The meeting of Convocation on Tuesday evening was characterized by rabid partisanship on the part of two factions of the undergraduates. The prevailing note of the meeting was: have you implicit confidence in the Student Council as a unit or do you feel that no good can come from them? One faction was desirous of voting supreme power to them with no restraining measures or by-laws of any kind, the other was in favor of filibustering anything and everything on general principle.

We, who are of the one-one hundredth, are wont to sneer at our brethren who so manifestly believe that God made the Republicans and damned the Democrats or vice-versa, and of feeling that we are above all that sort of thing, that our education has taught us to think for ourselves. It was perfectly evident the other evening that, instead of seeking that which was good and for our own best interest, the personalities of five individuals were on the boards, that we, too, preferred our petty politics.

Perhaps this is the explanation of why our student government is in such a wretched state. Would it not be more becoming of us as college students to forget partisanship, to forget the individual opinions of the student council and those diametrically oppose to it and think for ourselves concerning matters which are of such vital importance to us?

SMALL FAVORS

With every passing day many members of the faculty or student body hear, think or do something which has news value for the Messenger. Why not give us the benefit of your ideas? The college paper is supposed to be your paper, but it can never be so in fact until you personally have helped to fill its columns. Ten or a dozen persons, however active, cannot help but overlook many timely items. On the other hand, if everyone on campus jots down notes which happen to occur to him, it will be possible for us to publish "all the news that's fit to print," and omit much that is not. Filler is of little interest at any time, and it is still more impertinent when good topics are going to waste for lack of notice. In order to correct this state of affairs the Messenger Box has been placed in the entrance to the dining room. If you know of any proposed college activity, have some view to express upon current events, or even hear an unusually clever joke, for the sake of good spirit and good news make a note of it—or, better still, write it up—and drop your effort in the Box. You can help to lighten the work of the editors, and also to make the Messenger more completely an organ of the entire campus. Surely there is, in the back of your head, at least one item you have always wanted to see in print, but which somehow has continually escaped our attention. Go write it up now!

ANOTHER HUMBUG

Any system that does not work is a poor system, and should be replaced by another and better system. The present cut system quite obviously does not work. In the first place, there is a decided lack of unanimity among the Professors, regarding its application. Some opposed to the required attendance at classes, do not turn in absences. Others, on the contrary, count even lateness an absence, and these, the absence committee, which has a different mind on the matter, regularly and automatically excuses. In the second place, there seems to be no reliable standard as to what constitutes a legitimate excuse for absence. At one time, mere trifling excuses have sufficed to remove a cut; at another time, a really good excuse is rejected. Like statute law, our cut system does not appeal to the common consciousness, and is therefore difficult to enforce.

majority of the faculty have expressed themselves as being in favor of a more lenient system. The President himself, only recently stated that if he had his way, there would be no required attendance at all, although he thinks that the American student is too irresponsible for this. It has been suggested by one faculty member that there be no requirement of attendance at classes by upper-classmen, but that the freshmen and sophomores, being more irresponsible, should still have the prodding of a cut system.

It seems to us that a fair system, and one which would be far more workable than the present one, would be to allow a week's cuts (3) in each subject, and to forbid any other cuts, except for sickness under the doctor's care, under penalty of a deduction of two points for each cut as at present.

However the matter may be finally decided, it is earnestly hoped that a system will be instituted which will appeal to the fairmindedness of all, and which will, on that account, be adhered to more rigidly. For what is so great a humbug as that which is set up to be followed, and is not?

BUCK UP!!

It is still a long way to mid-year's, but bad habits are now in the forming among the freshmen. Far be it from us to find fault with all of '26, for we were in the same peagreen state ourselves much less than a decade ago, but we wish to pass on some advice which will be just as unwelcome to you as it was to us. Beware of the wary cut! We wouldn't go so far as to say that the faculty take delight in giving them to us, but they wear unholy grins of glee when the marks come out minus six or eight points for cuts. They are wicked things to have when the averages are computed. If you insist on going to the dances in the neighborhood, go to it, but don't sleep through classes the next morning. Take your naps in class as usual or make up sleep the next night, but get your names on the roll-call. Better men than you or we have departed hence in shame and sorrow on account of the cuts they took. Be ye warned: be wary and do not likewise!

Dragon Club Elects New Members

At a special meeting held on November 19th, the Dragon Club, acting under the new ruling requiring an average of 80% for three successive semesters instead of 85%, elected the following men to membership.

Norman S. Howell, '23.
Frank Louis Brown, '24.

Mr. Howell's averages for the last three semesters are 82, 85 and 85, respectively. Mr. Brown's averages are only slightly lower; 86, 81, and 82. No other men in the college are at present eligible.

In looking over the averages for eligibles, the Dragon Club found that many have an average of 80% or over for the last two semesters. It would therefore be wise for all who wish to be among these elected in February to work their hardest, for it seems likely that at this time there will be more men eligible than there are memberships open, in which case those who have the highest averages will be selected.

FRATERNITY NOTES

On Friday evening, Nov. 17th, Charles H. Stickle of Lynn, Mass., and Frederick J. Allen of Marion, Ohio, were initiated into the mysteries of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Dean Treder and Wallace Gardner came up for the initiation and the game.

Freshman Organize Debating Club

At a meeting held on Friday evening, Nov. 10th, those men chosen to take part in the Freshman Public Speaking Contest drew up the following resolution:

"We, the undersigned, elected by vote of the Freshman Public Speaking Classes at St. Stephen's College, in the year 1922, to represent them in the Freshman Public Speaking Contest to be held in December of this year, having taken the initiative in forming a freshman debating club, do hereby resolve and determine to form the same. We thoroughly believe in such an organization for the purpose of perfecting our public speaking ability, for intellectual profit, and for the advantages to be found in argumentative debate."

Signed, T. Irwin Probert, Chair.

A. Appleton Packard, Jr.
V. Graham Davey

Paul Titus
William C. Hamilton
Lawrence W. Shover

President Bell, who is conducting the classes in public speaking this year has given his hearty indorsement to the organization.

It was also resolved to hold a debate in So. Hoffman Hall on Friday evening, Nov. 17th, the subject to be: "Resolve that the Honor System is practical at St. Stephen's." Titus and Probert were chosen to present the affirmative, and Packard and Davey the negative. Hamilton agreed to act as introductory speaker while Dr. Wilson kindly consented to be the judge. The debate was voted a success by Dr. Wilson who awarded the decision to the affirmative. He then agreed to act as an advisor to the club in the future.

between any two men lies in the fact that they are both land animals, dependent upon the land for their common subsistence. There equality ends. There will never be true equality until every man has a common right to similar participation in a common source of subsistence. Mr. Nock's last point was the humbug of modern law. In the old days under the common law crimes "Malum in se" brought about an automatic enforcement of the law. Today statute laws attempt to punish crimes that are "malum prohibitum;" and since public opinion does not automatically back up such laws, the entire tradition of modern jurisprudence is based upon humbug.

After his lecture Mr. Nock gave an interesting ten-minute talk about the pleasures to be found in a classical education. The text of his remarks was that, while the classics had never directly prepared him to earn a cent, neither had they ever caused him greatly to desire a large earning capacity, and so he had been able to take much pleasure from everything that life had offered him. This statement should carry considerable weight, for Mr. Nock enjoys an international reputation as a writer of both Greek and Latin verse.

The ball see-sawed back and forth all during this quarter, the Scrubs easily having the better of the fray but unable to score. Strader, Clark, and Walker contributed some fine gains both thru the line and around the ends. Pfistner and Moser made some good tackles also.

Towards the end of the last quarter the Varsity was recalled to the game in order to give the first string substitutes an opportunity. But the team seemed unable to hit its previous stride and did not score.

A number of remarkable features characterized the game. Two touchdowns were scored in the first two and one-half minutes of play, which, taking into consideration the fact that the Varsity kicked off on each occasion, constitutes a record. Every man on the squad was put in at some period or other and all responded well. Lyte, regular tackle, playing his first game at end, showed an uncanny aptitude both for catching forward passes and for smothering State plays. Deloria, Kilby and White demonstrated the power of the Crimson aerial offence and Simmons, again substituting at quarterback, ran the team exceptionally well.

1. The executive authority of convocation shall be vested in a student council consisting of the President of Convocation and one member of each of the recognized fraternities and one member of the non-society group.

2. The student council shall not authorize corporal punishment.

3. A petition signed by at least ten members of convocation may bring about a referendum.

4. Proposed by-laws must receive at least three-fourths vote of convocation for acceptance.

It was also the prevailing opinion that all meetings of the student council which might require legal action should be open.

It is reported that the student council has been in conference with President Bell since this meeting of convocation and that a series of by-laws, containing all of the essential features of the above, is being drawn up and that the whole matter of student government will be settled in a satisfactory manner very shortly.

Varsity Battles Connecticut Aggies to 12-12

Simmons, Captain of the team and a regular end was placed in the quarterback position at the last minute. Harvey Simmonds, the regular quarterback is out of the game for the rest of the season following an attack of appendicitis. Williard, the second string quarter, has a broken bone in his foot and Noble, who played the position so well last week, did not make the trip on account of his injured leg. Despite his inexperience Simmons ran the team remarkably well, showing surprising aptitude in locating the weak spots in the Aggie defence.

Chapel Choir To Visit Kingston And Poughkeepsie

The Student Choir has recently accepted invitations to sing at Holy Cross Church, Kingston, and St. Paul's Church, Poughkeepsie. They are to render a service of Evensong at each of these places some Sunday during December. Rehearsals for these occasions have already been commenced, under the leadership of President Bell. Dr. Shero is to accompany the choir as organist.

Kiwanis Club Hears Dr. Edwards

Last week our Professor of Sociology, Dr. Lyford P. Edwards journeyed to Newburg, N. Y., and addressed the Kiwanis Club of that city on the subject of internal conditions in Germany of which he had gained a first hand knowledge during his trip abroad this summer.

In the course of his remarks he stated that Germany owes, both within the country and without, more money than is the value of all the property in Germany. The indemnities placed upon Germany by the Allies after the War is many times more than she can possibly pay. One of the ablest economists in England, Keynes, had figured ten billion dollars as the utmost that Germany could pay. Her actual indemnities amount to more than three times this figure. As a result of this staggering debt, the standard of living of the German workman, always lower than in America, has fallen so alarmingly low, that he can be said to be merely existing. Discontent is rife, and an outbreak imminent, such as turned Russia Bolshevich. If the Allies wish to collect any of the indemnity, they must ask for less, for otherwise, there will be a political upheaval that will place in power a government that will repudiate all debts.

Europe, he seriously believes, is on the verge of another and more terrible disaster than the World War. America could be instrumental in preventing this, if she would adopt a sterner policy of demanding that the debts owed her by the European Nations be paid, for it would make them get down to work to raise the money, instead of spending their energy in squabbling among themselves.

Freshman To Give Musicales

At a recent meeting of the freshman class it was decided to give a musicale for the purpose of raising funds for the class dance to be held in February. This musicale will take place sometime in January. Announcement of the program will be made in a later issue.

Scrubs Lose to Middletown H. S. 26-0

On November 11 the Seconds lost to the heavy Middletown team, 26-0. The fact that Middletown beat Newburgh, 27-6, shows the Scrubs improvement.

The home team scored once in the first, twice in the second, and once in the last period. Between the touchdowns the game was very closely contested, the Scrubs gaining almost as much ground as the victors. Every man was fighting and the line held well. The backfield showed a marked improvement since the Port Jervis game. Strader did some brilliant plunging. The line-up:

Organ Recitals Prove Popular

The half-hour of organ music just preceeding Chapel on Wednesday evenings is proving its popularity by the number who attend. For the past two weeks, Clyde C. Clark has been the organist, and his renditions have been particularly pleasing. His programs have provided a delightful combination of operatic and lighter pieces. Perhaps we have been most pleased with his rendering of "Stabat Mater," Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata," Transcription of "Ill Trovatore," Chaminades "Scarf Dance," and "Barcarole" from "Offenbach's Tales of Hoffman."

For two seasons Clark has had charge of the music and summer training at Camp Delhi, which is maintained for the Choir of Trinity, New York. Retallick, who is organist of Albany's largest Presbyterian Church, is going to play for us soon, as well as John Linsley, another artist of no little technique. All these men are Freshmen.

The Rev. Dr. Stetson Preaches Here

The Rev. Caleb Stetson of Trinity Church, New York City, was here to preach on Sunday morning, November 19th. His text, taken from St. Paul's epistle to the Romans, was on Manhood. "Standards of manhood," he said, "are too apt to be those of his physical abilities. There is something more demanded, a strength of mind and spirit as well, which will prove him to be a man when a crisis arises."

"The man of the nineteenth century was a scientist with but a vague idea of a soul. Where the ancient Greeks claimed descent from the gods he traced his descent back to the ape. The man of today, however, is a machine for the advance of civilization. He is either crushed altogether by the machine or else loses his identity and becomes a mere cog. Beauty is lost to him and his senses are dulled by the din and squalor of the cities."

"The hope of man and the world is in the Spirit of God, but it rests with mankind as a whole far less than with the individual. Those who live by the Spirit of God are the sons of God."
