Faculty Passes Important Legislation

Requirements for Admission Changed. Latin No Longer Necessary

At a special meeting of the faculty, held on Monday evening, December 18th, a momentous step was taken which is bound to have great consequences for the College. A series of resolutions were adopted entirely changing the old standards for admission, and abolishing the entrance requirements for History and Ancient History, while keeping the requirements for a degree the same. This means that men entering without these subjects will be required to take them here, but will receive college credits for them. Furthermore, the change is retroactive, so that all who have taken preparatory Latin or History here without credit will be given college credits for their work, provided that they have sufficient units in other subjects to make up the admission requirements.

The new ruling requires 15 units from an approved High or Preparatory School, to be chosen from the subjects prescribed in the catalog, provided that these 15 units include 5 in English, 2 in a foreign language, and 2 in Mathematics. This ruling adds 1/4 unit to the former requirement of 14.

Other rulings were passed affecting the student body. A change was made whereby any man wishing to elect an additional course will have to attain an average of 80% instead of 75% as before. Another ruling sets a time limit of two weeks at the beginning of each semester, after which no change in registration will be allowed.

New Course in Religion

At the December meeting of the trustees the faculty advised the addition to the curriculum of a new required course in religion. At the next meeting of the trustees, held January 9th, the introduction of this course was approved. While intended for freshman, the course in religion—teaching of which will begin next autumn—will be compulsory for all members of the college during the year 1923-24. The class will meet one hour every week, and when completed the course will give two units of credit towards a degree. The course will be divided into four sections of eight weeks each, which will be administered in the following manner: an outline of dogmatic theology, by the President; the relation of science to religion, by the professor of philosophy and religion; and social problems of religion, by the professor of sociology.

Dr. Walter B. James New Trustee

St. Stephen's has gained another new trustee, in the person of Dr. Walter B. James. He accepted his appointment and took his seat on January fifth. Dr. James was born in 1858. He received his B.A. from Yale, and his M.A., M.D. and L.L.D. from Columbia University. He was called to the faculty of the College of Medicine at Columbia in 1889, and has served upon that faculty as full professor of medicine since 1902. He has been a trustee of Columbia since 1903. During the last few years he has concerned himself with the care of the insane in the State of New York, and has succeeded in completely reorganizing the methods of care employed in all the state hospitals for the feeble minded. One of the most widely known men in the medical circles of New York City, he was asked to assist Dr. Traube in the foundation of Saranac Sanitarium, with the maintenance of which he is still connected. He is a member of the Century and University Clubs. His town residence is at 7 East Seventieth Street, New York City; and his summer home is in the Adirondacks, at Upper St. Regis Lake, where he has a camp. In accepting his appointment, Dr. James said in part: "Both in connection with my work among prisoners and in my own walk of life I have found many young people falling through selfishness and absence of self-restraint, and in all of this I see as a major factor the loss of religion. I am convinced that our schools and colleges are the places where we should first attack this problem, and I believe that St. Stephen's can be made an effective implement in his attack. All this presents the work of St. Stephen's College in a very dignified and worthy light, and I feel that I must pitch in and lend a hand."

The Choir Invisible

The Poughkeepsie Radio Manufacturing Company, which broadcasts programs from Poughkeepsie every Sunday afternoon, has asked Presi dent Bell to arrange for the broadcasting by the St. Stephen's College choir of the program of musical music which it gave just before Christmas at St. Paul's Church. The date set by the invitation was January twenty-first. The President declined the invitation, in order that there might be no interference with studies during examination week. It is expected that the invitation will be renewed for some Sunday afternoon in the early spring.

Freshman Dance Feb. 9

Extensive preparations are being made by the class of 1926 for their dance which is to be held in Memorial Gymnasium on the evening of February 9th. Wittenbee's Orchestra of New Haven, who have a considerable reputation at Yale, have been engaged. Programs may be obtained from Shofer and already a large number have been secured. The chairman of the various committees are as follows: Clark, music; Shofer, programs; Horton, decorations; Pfister, refreshments.

Woodruff Elected Manager of Football

Kelly Brent Woodruff of Sioux Falls, S. Dakota, has been elected manager of the 1923 football team. He has been assistant manager for the past two years and was unanimously elected upon the recommendation of Major Prince and Manager Howell. Scott and Keplinger, both members of the class of 1926 were chosen assistant managers. Bradford-Tile '25 was elected Secretary of the Athletic Association to fill the vacancy which had existed since the beginning of the year.

Trustees Arrive at Important Agreement With Regard to College Discipline

Dr. Bell Favors Preservation of Student Government

By an agreement arrived at by the trustees, the President and the faculty, the question of responsibility for discipline on the campus has finally been settled. In a memorandum addressed to all concerned it was stated that there has never been any official provision concerning discipline. In Dr. Fairstein's day the President, or Warden as he was then called, had absolute authority over everyone on the campus. After years this power was sometimes exercised by the faculty, sometimes by a committee of the faculty, sometimes by the Dean, and sometimes by the President. Hereafter the faculty as a body has absolute control of all discipline within class rooms, laboratories and libraries, independent of the President, except as he may see fit. The President, or Dean, is independent of the convocation of undergraduates; but the faculty will exercise no authority outside these specified places.

The President, from now on, has sole responsibility for all discipline outside class rooms, laboratories and libraries. At any time he may delegate to the Dean such disciplinary powers as he may deem necessary to withdraw the same at his pleasure. He may give such power as he sees fit to a student government, provided the arrangement he makes has the approval of the faculty, and he may withdraw such powers at any time he pleases.

No student may be expelled from the college except by a vote of the faculty, with the concurrence of the President.

When asked about the new regulations President Bell said: "It is a good thing to know where responsibility lies. I am quite contented to continue indefinitely the student government, and to back it up in the exercise of the authority delegated to it. For the present I have delegated no disciplinary power to the Dean, except during my absences from campus, at which times he will act with my full disciplinary authority.

Otto T. Simmons attended the national convention of Sigma Alpha Epsilon held at Detroit during the Xmas holidays. Dean Tredar of Garden City made the trip with him.

Harry H. Turner-High '22 writes from the University of Wisconsin that he has joined the American Sociological Society and has also been initiated into Alpha Kappa Delta, honorary national sociological fraternity.

THE FRATERNITY.

Each year at this time, it seems, the advantages and disadvantages of fraternities at St. Stephen's are brought to the attention of the student body. It must be admitted that fraternities have had a long and honorable connection with the life and growth of the College. They have brought into the lives of their members a spirit of brotherhood, loyalty, and service which has proven invaluable.

The obligation to maintain a good feeling upon the campus is indeed a serious one, both upon the part of the fraternity and non-fraternity groups. The former cannot effect this snobishness nor the latter by bitterness. It is poor policy for the fraternity men to align themselves against their fellow students or for the non-fraternity men to sculpt a system which has so many adherents and is capable of so much usefulness.

The fraternity can serve the college and justify its existence in the following ways:

(1) By making itself subservient to the college.
(2) By promoting the scholarship of its members and pledges.
(3) By encouraging its members to participate in the various college activities and to achieve leadership in the same.
(4) By avoiding fraternity politics, which is difficult, but not impossible.
(5) By living up to its ideals, which are always high.

No one, with a sense of fairness, can or will criticize an organization which makes an honest effort to operate according to the above precepts.

THE NEW ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS.

We wish to express our unqualified approval of the recent action taken by the faculty in abolishing the Latin entrance requirement. We believe that this action will be fraught with much good for St. Stephen's, for there is no doubt but that many good men who would otherwise be kept away from the formidable Latin requirement will now register here. Nor will the College lose any fraction of its scholastic reputation, for, by abolishing this action, the faculty is merely bringing St. Stephen's in line with most of the other institutions of higher learning, while at the same time they are returning its right to be called a college of the Classics, for they are rigidly maintaining the Latin requirement for a degree.

A Communication

At a Meeting of the Student Council held January 8, 1923, after consultation with the President, it was decided to remand the Student Body that, as the Government of the College is now organized, to disobey any decision of the Student Council in regard to the General Conduct of the Student Body is contrary to the Matriculation Promise.

The following reasons are given:

1. At Matriculation each student promises to obey the following: "I hereby bind myself as a Student of St. Stephen's College to obey faithfully and as far as I can the rules and regulations imposed upon me by the President, Trustees, and Faculty of the Institution and by the Convocation of Undergraduates when acting with the agreement of the President of the College, and in all other ways to advance its academic reputation and its spiritual usefulness to Jesus Christ and His Church."

2. Under this promise we are duty bound to obey the authority vested in the President of the College.

3. To disobey any decision of the Student Council in regard to the General Conduct of the Student Body is to break the promise to obey the authority of the President of the College and the Convocation of Undergraduates as relegated to the Student Council.

4. It must be remembered that a referendum of a decision of the Student Council may be called at any time by any ten members of Convocation.

—The Student Council.

By-Laws for Convocation Finally Adopted

At a special meeting of convocation on December 13th it was decided to adopt the following by-laws as a basis for student government at St. Stephen's:

1. The officers of Convocation shall be elected at a meeting to be held during the week preceding Baccalaureate Sunday. They shall assume office on Baccalaureate Sunday and shall remain in office (unless recalled by Convocation) until the following election of officers.

2. The Student Council shall consist of the President of Convocation and one member from each of the recognized Fraternities and Non-Fraternity Group, each subject to recall, and shall take their oath of office at the regular meeting of Convocation.

3. The meetings of the Student Council shall be open to any member of Convocation.

4. All accounts of Convocation shall be presented to the Treasurer of the college at the close of each semester for audit.

5. The President, or at least ten members of Convocation may call a meeting of Convocation.

6. The Student Council shall not authorize corporal punishment.

7. A petition, signed by at least ten members of Convocation, may bring about a referendum of any decision of the Student Council.

The above by-laws, having been approved by the President and Faculty, again put the reins of government in an organized form and should be the means of bringing a simple and effective administration of student affairs to the campus.

Sociologists Honor Dean Small of Chicago

Dr. Edwards, as usual, spent part of the Christmas holidays attending the annual meeting of the American Sociological Society which was held at the Congress Hotel in Chicago on December 27, 28, and 29. The most interesting event of the meeting was the dinner given to Professor Albin W. Small of the University of Chicago. Dr. Small, having reached the age of seventy, will retire from his position as head of the department of sociology at Chicago at the end of the present academic year. He has held his present position for thirty-one years, before which he was President of Colby College for three years. In point of service Professor Small is the oldest teacher of sociology in the United States and has trained a larger number of the present day sociologists than any other one man. Dr. Edwards took his seminar work under Dean Small and the methods employed in conducting the senior course in sociology at St. Stephen's are largely those used at Chicago. Professor Small is also the founder of the journal of Sociology and has been its editor-in-chief since 1896. He is the author of a number of very important books of which perhaps the most important are "General Sociology" and "The Meaning of Social Science."

Dean Fosbrooke Preaches

On Sunday morning, December 17, the College chapel was opened up as so to speak of the Reverend Hugh Fosbrooke, Ph.D., D.D., Dean of the General Theological Seminary of New York City. His subject was the Ministry. It was not, however addressed only to those contemplating the Ministry, but to all, whatever vocation they might be pursuing. In vigorous, forceful terms, he presented the Ministry as a man-sized job, which requires strong men to fill it. Addressing himself to all, as laymen of the Church, he told them plainly of their duty and responsibility as laymen for the maintaining of high standards for the Priesthood and the promotion of the Corporal acts of charity—such as in the case of a common conception of the Ministry as being alone to those in Holy Orders, and called for a large share of the responsibility. He, too, in all to bring their influence to bear to direct that only the best men and strongest men be chosen as ministers and stewards of the mysteries of Christ.
The Boar’s Head Dinner

The annual boar's head dinner was held at seven o'clock on the evening of December eighteenth. Despite the necessarily tame character of the wassail which was served, spirits ran high. Due no doubt to disappointment over the abolition of the shilling or the flag scrap the freshmen had co-operated but little in the decorating of Preston Hall, but several faithful souls made up with their zeal for the disincarnation of the majority. The tables were arranged in hollow square, which facilitated the peripherizations of the waiter. After the singing of “Varsity,” followed by the dixieland, Mr. MacDonald brought in the boar’s head with the usual pomp and ceremony, and the festivities were under way.

The merriment began with the entry of Father Christmas and a feeler. When it had been determined which was which, Craig advanced to the center of the crowd, and, under cover of his jesting guise, uttered many apt and touching sentiments. Father Christmas then sang his traditional carol, and as he went on with the merriment it was a success.

Mr. Albee’s Gift

Mr. Edward F. Albee, one of our new trustees, has just presented to the college a moving picture machine. The machine has arrived, and will be at work in a few days. It is a “New Oxford” exactly like the one in use at the Palace Theatre in New York City; and it will be placed inside a fine, self-contained booth which has been designed especially to fit the gymnasium. Mr. Albee who, it will be remembered, is head of the B. F. Keith Vaudeville Circuit, was greatly interested when he heard that the University was about to present some plays of drama; and, that the plays might be more successful, he also gave to the college a complete set of spotlights and footlights for the stage. The total cost of Mr. Albee’s gift is said to be more than one thousand dollars.

Sweaters Awarded to Football Letter Men

At a meeting of the undergraduates held in Preston Hall on January 3rd, sweaters marked with the college insignia were presented to the members of the “Varsity” football squad for 1923. The presentation gave rise to much excitement.

St. Andrews Club Reorganizes

After its inactivity this Fall, St. Andrews Club has reorganized for work this Winter. Until now it has been impossible to get many men together for the Saturday evening meetings, as many of the members have been away with the football teams.

A social meeting of some twenty men was recently held, which made the club a necessary factor in student life at St. Stephen’s and as such should go ahead and furnish a half hour service will be held every Saturday evening, which will consist of a few prayers, a hymn or two, and informal talk either by a member of the faculty or of the Club. The first of these has already been held with good attendance, and apparent interest.

St. Andrews Club is composed of immediately before the reorganization of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, or who believe in Brotherhood ideals. All realize the Club need of better organization, the new executive committee is endeavoring to bring it about,—affiliation with the National Council of Episcopal Students, as a college unit, or organization into a regular Senior Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

The Flag Scrap

On Friday, December fifteenth, it was announced that the annual sophomore-freshman flag scrap would be held at three o’clock the afternoon of the succeeding day. The scrap, according to the terms set by the student council, will be held after the President and the medical department was to last fifteen minutes come. After that, by the bad weather-conditions, the participants were to take showers and rub-downs.

Sometime during Friday night members of one of the other classes involved began to kidnap members of the other class. Each class naturally blamed the other for the start of the fighting, and probably both of them are right. The kidnapping, accompanied by much damage to college property, and by not a little bloodshed, continued until recitations had started. In every nook and corner about the campus could be found prostrate figures, bound hand and foot. President Bell came upon the scene just in time to see a carload of five sophomores being shipped away by parcel post (second class).

Since all the terms of the fight had been violated, and there seemed no other way to settle the mess, the President gave orders that the flag be pulled down and that the scrap be referred to, only for this year, but for all time. The only members of the student body who did not express regret at his decision were the members of the two belligerent classes.

Faculty Refuses to Act on Petition

A petition for the institution of another cut system, bearing upwards of eighty signatures was returned by the Secretary of the faculty Mr. Cook, for presentation in a more correct and intelligible form. In doing this, Mr. Cook explained, the faculty was not expressing their refusal to listen to the wishes of the students, but merely their disapproval of the careless form in which it was presented. The next petition came from the Student Council, which has made an investigation of the system of other colleges, and is presenting a request similar in detail to the one rejected.

THE CHRISTMAS CAROL SERVICE

The Christmas Carol Service was held this year on Monday evening, December 19th. Prior to the service the Boar’s Head Dinner was held, tastefully decorated with candles, scores of which, threw a soft, mellow gleam, lending a festive atmosphere to the occasion, each device in keeping with the character of the service.

The service itself was a complete success. It began with a prelude consisting of a solo, "Cantique de Noel," sung by Horace Donna in the major, the hymn, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" by all. Then followed the service proper. In place of the Psalter, the 16th century Christmas hymn was sung by the Choir. After the lesson, Adeste Fidelis was sung, very impressive to the students who have a penchant for a beautiful, simple, and dignified service that all heartily enjoyed.

The College Budget

Dr. Bell Discusses Cost of Running College

A statement, posted in connection with an official bulletin recently, that for each five hundred dollars received the college paid out nearly a thousand dollars upon the student, aroused a considerable interest. It may, perhaps, be profitable to present more in detail the per capita expenditure. Not merely will it make undergraduates more thoughtful about their collegiate careers, but also it may serve to show the alumni and others what expenditures are necessary for the carrying on of a first class small college of Arts and Letters.

Of course no college receives as much in tuition as it expends. Examination of the financial reports of twenty colleges shows an average increase of outgo over tuition of between three hundred and fifty and four hundred dollars per man. With the utmost economy it costs us at St. Stephen's about ninety-seven thousand dollars gross per year, which, with our present enrollment of one hundred students, means approximately nine hundred and seventy dollars each. The high per capita cost is mostly due to the small number of students. With no great increase of budget we could take care of two hundred men. We could get these men if we had dormitories to accommodate them. Meanwhile our losses per man will probably continue at about the present amount.

This year it cost the College approximately:
(a) for instructors' salaries $33,500 or $355 per student.
(b) for library expenses $4,500 or $45 per student.
(c) for athletics: $1,200 or $12 per student.
(d) for laboratories $3,500 or $35 per student.
(e) for chapels $250 or $2.50 per student.
(f) for administrative expenses $3,500 or $35 per student.
(g) for coal $8,000 or $80 per student.
(h) for electricity $3,000 or $30 per student.
(i) for care of rooms $2,000 or $20 per student.
(j) for care of grounds $3,400 or $34 per student.
(k) for students' food supplies $16,000 or $160 per student.
(l) for kitchen help $4,600 or $46 per student.
(m) for kitchen coal $300 or $3 per student.
(n) for waiters $1,000 or $10 per student.
(o) for current repairs $5,000 or $50 per student.
(p) for water $500 or $5 per student.
(q) for traveling expenses $1,000 or $10 per student.
(r) for printing and catalogues $2,400 or $24 per student.

(s) for many small items $5,000 or $50 per student.

Total: $94,950 or $946.50 per student.

It must be remembered that the above figures do not include the various expenses for athletics, laboratories, gymnasium, etc.

Freshman Oratory-ical Contest

Packard Wins Over Six Other Contestants; Probert Second.

On Thursday evening, December 14th, Alpheus Packard, delivering Patrick Henry's famous "Give me Liberty" Oration, walked away with the first prize of twenty dollars as an easy victory over six other freshmen, with a total of 89 points, 20 more than his next nearest competitor.

Quite a large number turned out to hear the speeches. President Bell was present, and gave a preliminary talk explaining the conditions and the methods of judging. The contest, in the order in which they appeared were: Arvedson, Titus, Packard, Davy, Shover, Hamilton, and Probert. All spoke exceedingly well, and showed careful preparation. The fees for athletics so well into his part as did Packard, who used his natural eloquence in interpreting Patrick Henry's impassioned appeal for a resource to arms. The student vote concurred with that of the judges in selecting Packard for the prize.

Probert's rendition of Bob Inger-son's "Vision of War and of the Future" was very good, and entitled him to the second prize of five dollars. Others worthy of honorable mention were Titus and Arvedson.

All were in agreement that the contest was the best that has been held here for a long time.
