S. A. T. C. STILL ACTIVE

The following extracts from correspondence are perhaps an indication of the feeling towards the college, developed among the S. A. T. C. men who were here for military training in the Students' Training Corps.

"This is to acknowledge receipt of the Annual Catalogue which contains a list of the men who were in the Students' Training Corps. Want to thank the college for remembering us so kindly and assure you I and everyone appreciated it very much."

Next Tuesday night there will be a little reunion at Keens English Chipp House, 72 West 66th Street, and if you should happen to be in the city, you will be pleased to see you or any of the faculty there. This is merely a preliminary to get together and get started for a big banquet or dance in the near future.

Your very kind letter received and was indeed glad to hear from you so soon. A letter now and then from the men of St. Stephen's proper or the faculty will bring back the fond reminiscences of the grand old times we all had together while at Annandale.

The Reunion of the S. A. T. C. men last night was comparatively a big success. There were nine present and being the first gathering we've had since our discharge, I think we managed to get enough around.

Our next reunion will be May 6th, 1919, at Keens English Chipp House, 72 West 66th Street, unless otherwise notified.

Those present at the reunion were: Withum, Curtin, Head, Horvitz, Hubbs, O'Hean, Philiips and Spagnoli.

On the third of the month the same room will be used for a similar meeting for anyone interested.

'EULEXIAN.'

Since Cassius Hunt has arrived from overseas and Ois Mison from museum work in Kingston, The Eulexian fraternity has resumed its activities. The Eulexians very graciously donated their quarters on the third floor of Aspinwall to be used as a recreation room during the S. A. T. C. regime, but now since the wartime congestion has been relieved, the society has reoccupied its old home. St. Stephen's takes this occasion to thank the Eulexians for their generosity.

PRESIDENT RODGERS RESIGNS

HEAD OF SAINT STEPHEN'S GIVES UP WORK TO BECOME RECTOR OF SAINT DAVID'S, DEVON.

'CONVOCATION MEETING

The resignation of the Rev. William A. Rodgers, who for the past ten years has been President of Saint Stephen's College, was presented and accepted at a meeting of the Board of Trustees held on Thursday, April 3rd. The resignation takes effect on Commencement Day.

Dr. Rodgers was elected President of Saint Stephen's College in June, 1909, succeeding the Rev. Thomas R. Harris, D.D., after an interregnum of two years, during which time the late Dr. Hopson, was Acting Rector. During his term of office he was the means of bringing about many improvements in buildings and grounds and launched campaigns for endowment and maintenance. The installation of electricity throughout all buildings and of a central heating plant, the remodelling of the College Chapel, the complete renovation of Aspinwall Hall and the building of a President's house were all made possible through Dr. Rodgers' efforts. He should be given credit for making the chapel unique, through the beauty of its services.

Of late years, the continued ill health of Mrs. Rodgers has been the cause of much anxiety to the President and last June, the Board of Trustees granted him a year's leave of absence. In November, 1918, he became Priest-in-charge of St. David's Church, Devon, Pennsylvania, to which parish he has recently been re-elected as Rector.

Before becoming President of St. Stephen's Dr. Rodgers had been Head Master of St. John's School, Montreal, Canada, Rector of Grace Church, Millbrook, New York, and Assistant at St. Agnes' Chapel, Trinity Parish, New York City. He succeeds the Rev. J. H. Lamb as Rector of St. David's, Devon and he has heartiest wishes for success in his new work.

K. G. X. DANCE

SPRING EVENT SET FOR MAY 16

Once more the infallible sign of Spring is here. The Kappa Gamma Chi fraternity has announced that May 16th as the date of its triennial dance. Ludlow and Willink Hall will be the scene of the occasion. Unlike the Spring dances of the past, the men will lay aside the oppressive dress suit for the more reasonable flannel trousers and dark coats. Many have already made plans for the week-end and are expecting partners from the various Girl's Colleges along the Hudson.

MAY 26TH SET FOR INTER-CLASS EVENT.

At a meeting of the Student Council held on the evening of April 2, 1919, the following rules for the Sophomore-Freshman Tag-of-War were adopted:

1. The annual Sophomore-Freshman Tag-of-War shall take place at the afternoon of May 24th, 1919.

2. The Student Council shall determine the equalization of weights.

New Messenger Board

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF STILL IN SERVICE.

The following slate of the new Messenger Board was ratified in toto by Convocation at its meeting on March 19th, 1919.

Editor-in-Chief—Donn M. Strong, '20.

Acting Editor-in-Chief—William A. M. Parker, '21.

Business Manager—Hassan H. Hunt, '20.

It was decided that reporters be re-elected and that they shall write articles for each issue of the Messenger at the direction of the chief. They may not, however, write editorials. An exchange editor was elected to write articles from various other college papers with which the Messenger exchanges. These articles shall be entitled "In Other Colleges.

The new editor-in-chief who is still at camp Upton will assume his duties next fall.

Base Ball

FIRST INTRA-MURAL GAME, APRIL 26th.

Although we are unable to have Inter-Collegiate baseball this year, it has been decided to play inter-class games. A team composed of Sophomores and Seniors will play a team composed of Freshmen, Juniors and Seniors. The team winning four out of seven games will win the series. The first game will be played Saturday, April 26th, so now is the time for those teams to conduct their "Spring Training." Every man that takes any interest in baseball should come out for these teams, for it is only in this way that the series will be a success. Next year it is hoped that we may have inter-collegiate baseball. This is a chance for prospective candidates for the team to show what they can do and for us to see just what material we have in college for next year's team.

3. Making footholds against roots or stones shall not be permitted.

4. Tying knots on the rope shall be lawful.

5. The order of march to the Sawkill Creek shall be as follows: Specials, Freshmen, Sophomore, Juniors, Seniors, Student Council, Faculty.

Convo. Meeting

At the 60th regular meeting of the Convocation of Undergraduates held in Founden Hall, March 19th, '19 Pfauffo '20 was elected a member of the Student Council. The Convocation granted full power to the Finance Committee to take up matter of Campus Taxes with the College Authorities. (The Campus Taxes for the years of 1916 to 1917 and 1917 to 1918 were collected, but have not as yet been turned over to the Undergraduates). Treasurer's report was read and approved. On motion it was decided to make plans for a suitable memorial to the St. Stephen's men in the service, including a service flag.

Instead of the Faculty granting the petition of Convocation regarding an extra day in the Easter vacation the vacation was set from Thursday morning April 17th to Wednesday morning, April 23rd.

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Association the resignation of the baseball manager, Clarke '21, was accepted, and Alonzo L. Wood '19, was elected in his place. is the official organ of the student body of St. Stephen's College, and as such it is entitled to the support of all. It is a part of the college duty of every man to support actively and every college institution, and the college paper should be considered as important an institution at St. Stephen's as it is in other colleges; and it should be one of the most important phases of our college life if every man will do his utmost, if not in actual writing for the paper, at least in active support of it.

If a man is capable of expressing himself in a clear cut manner (and there is no reason to believe that St. Stephen's is in any way behind other colleges in this particular), then there is no excuse for his remaining in the background and allowing the work of the college paper for an issue. Most of the men here at St. Stephen's are looking forward to some day to taking Holy Orders, and when that time comes, among their understandings will be that of newspaper writing. They may be called upon to write a paper for a convention, or to compose an article for a magazine, or newspaper, whether religious or secular. There is no better time for attaining a certain familiarity with this kind of work than when one is in college and has a college paper to which he may contribute at any time. When one looks through the issues of the "Messenger" of many years back, he marvels at the completeness of these issues—the well-written articles, the interesting short stories, and even the very commendable poetry. There is no reason to believe that the St. Stephen's men of other days should be inferior in intellect to those of to-day. Is the St. Stephen's man of to-day less capable of producing a really worth-while piece of writing than he was twenty years ago? The editors think not. They firmly believe that these qualities exist in the men of to-day, that it is quite true, but nevertheless one must be there and it requires only a small amount of effort and self-confidence to bring them forth. It is for this that the editors ask.

It is also the opinion of the editors that the alumni should continue their interest in the publication of their Alma Mater. We must have their support, we feel that they should be not only subscribers but occasional contributors as well, and we look to them to carry out part of their obligation of striving for the progress of the "Messenger".

In all phases of our college life, we must feel that we owe it to all the men that have gone before us and set us up the traditions of our college. Thus the new board of editors feel that it owes to all the former editors the obligation of keeping up the standard of the "Messenger". We feel that we, as well as the whole college, owe a debt of gratitude to the outgoing board for keeping the "Messenger" going through the trying and critical days of the past year. Situations on the campus have been difficult to face and these men should feel that they have done a splendid work.

In closing, we, the board of editors, would like to express our sincere gratitude to all who have helped us, whether we worked in cooperation or on our own. We hope that the new board of editors will be able to carry on the tradition of excellence that has been set forth by the past editors.

With this issue of the "Messenger," the new board of editors enter upon its duties, deeply realizing its great responsibility. The board feels that it has an important task before it—its task is the highest of all, the task of realizing the best efforts of every member of the board; but we realize, and we rejoice in the fact, that this is a task for every member of the college community to realize, that our efforts will prove of little avail if we have not the hearty cooperation of each and every student body as a whole, and it is for this cooperation that we plead.

For a year or two past, the student body has seemed possessed of the erroneous idea that the "Messenger" existed for the benefit and glorification of the board of editors, and that any one not a member of the board was not expected to do anything towards advancement of the interests of the "Messenger." This is not to be carried to such an extreme that not only were the students not actively interested in their publication, but they were even at times at odds with the editors. The editors wish to be distinctly understood that they and their methods are open to fair criticism and suggestions; they deem it unnecessary to dwell upon the fact that various and adverse criticism and lack of sympathy confronting them, they can hardly expect to make the paper "holler" all that it should be. They also lay great stress upon the fact that the "Messenger" is the official organ of the student body of St. Stephen's College, and as such it is entitled to the support of all.

knife. Extreme care should be exercised in sifting over the whole and anyone not able to meet the college requirements should be dropped. Examinations should be done away with and frequent tests substituted. At the end of each half year the student should be brought before an expert in psychology who would determine whether or not he was qualified to continue his course.

Since a college education is not to turn out a machine in human form, a certain amount of work, but aims to equip a man so that he may deal with and solve the problems which the American college must get rid of the specialized athlete, the social lion and the unfortunateman swallowed up by the Octopus of a college degree. Therefore the problems with which college graduates have to deal today.

ALONZO L. WOOD, 1919

The Mail Box

To the Editor of the Messenger:

The answer in the last issue of the Messenger to the clipping on pawns and other "fummery" of the previous issue, a clipping the reproduction of which served no obvious purpose, was a pleasure to read. It is always a pleasure nowadays to read any discussion of the game, even if it be only a tradition of good manners. All receber, whether religious or academic, or purely social, is but the outward expression of respect for the fundamental idea, for some one else, and indirectly for one's self, and the last is of the very essence of democracy. The wearing of the game is not then due to a belief in the part of the colleges in an intellectual aristocracy. Scholars do not try to keep their knowledge to themselves, or to rule by means of that knowledge, they seek to impart it to others, and to benefit mankind through it. The game then is a symbol of the brotherhood of service to which the scholar belongs. It is in a pity that more colleges do not have the custom of undergraduates wearing the game; the young men might the more generously be impressed with the obligations which their education imposes upon them. As for the so-called "fummery" of distinctions in hoods, brailings, colours, and other markings to show degrees and colleges, they are the academic equivalent of the stars and leaves, and cherubins, and pal- loons, and other badges that sometime make our military uniforms the source of bewilderment to the uninitiated. No one accuses the array of "fummery" or adherence to outward medievalism because a private does not dress like a general or both like a civilian, because a major or lieutenant distinguished from a colonel and an artilleryman from a cavalryman. That way would Bolshevism lie. The academic gown is the uniform of the army of students the world over, and let not student be ashamed of it or refuse to wear it as long as it indicates his membership in the honorable body of fighters for human progress and enlightenment. Least of all should a

St. Stephen's man belittle it remembering that it is also a reminder that it is the Church which has always fostered learning and which preserved it intact through the dark ages of the earlier Germanic invasions.

Yours, W. G. CAMERON.

Fr. Lange On Leave of Absence

TRUSTEES GRANT TWO MONTHS TO HISTORY PROFESSOR.

Rev. Peter Lange, Professor of History, has been granted a leave of absence for the months of April and May. He intends, his health permitting, to return to college before commencement and to continue his work here the following semester. Fr. Lange's trouble began this year with the flu and immediately after this he suffered a severe fall in Ludlow and Willink which incapacitated him for a long time. No sooner had he sufficiently recovered from this as to walk without crutches, than he was afflicted with a stomach trouble for which he is now being treated in New York City. It was with deepest regret that we received word of Fr. Lange's illness and we all hope for his speedy recovery and return to St. Stephen's.
